Presented by the Senior Class of
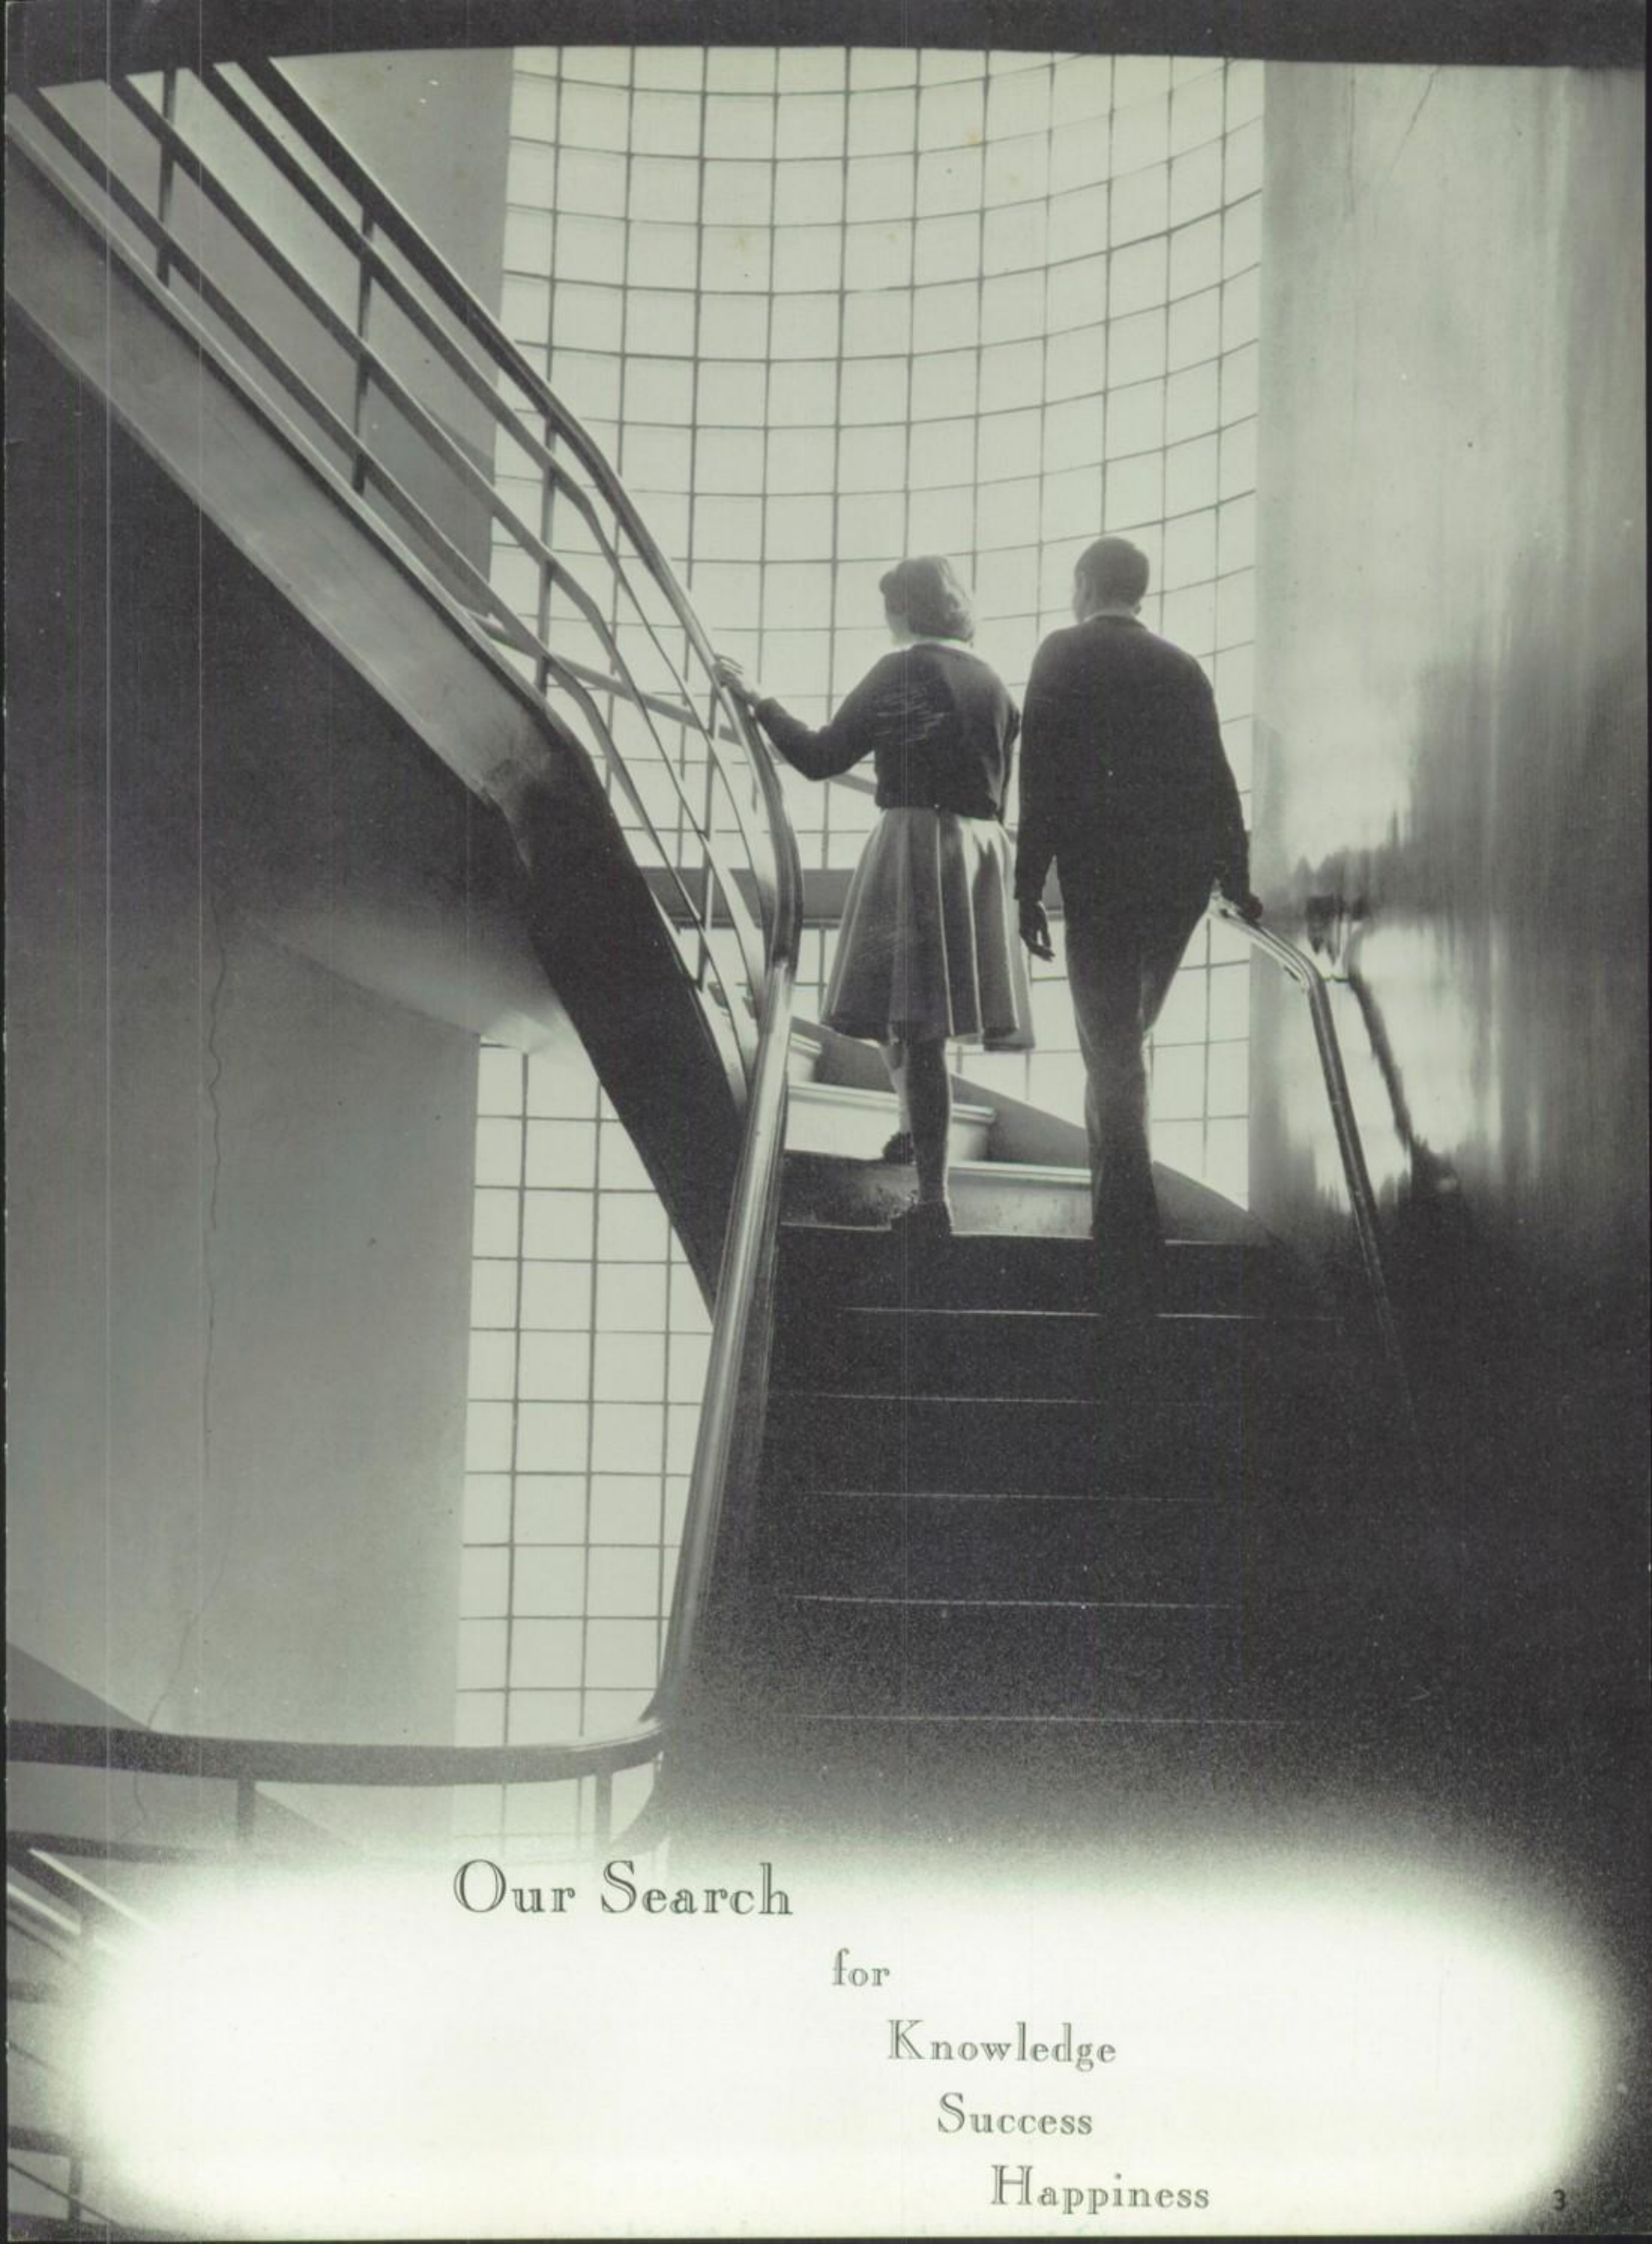
WALTER M. WILLIAMS HIGH SCHOOL
BURLINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA

OUR SEARCH for knowledge, success, happiness—three fundamental properties that govern our lives. For members of the Class of 1963, a small segment of OUR SEARCH is almost over. We have come to recognize that knowledge is the key to success and happiness. The discipline and encouragement received in our classes give us the incentive to realize our potential. As we grow in knowledge, each of us will become more aware of ways to direct his own initiative. The complexities of life, a few of which we have come to know, have made us aware of the challenges of OUR SEARCH. Here at Williams High School we have acquired a sense of direction and the rudiments of learning and knowledge. As we leave W.H.S., we shall assume more responsibility for directing our own lives, ever mindful that "everyone who seeketh, findeth; and to him who knocketh, it shall be opened."



Our Search

Knowledge

Success

Happiness

In OUR SEARCH Williams High School becomes more than a school

. . . it is a state of mind

. . . a source of knowledge

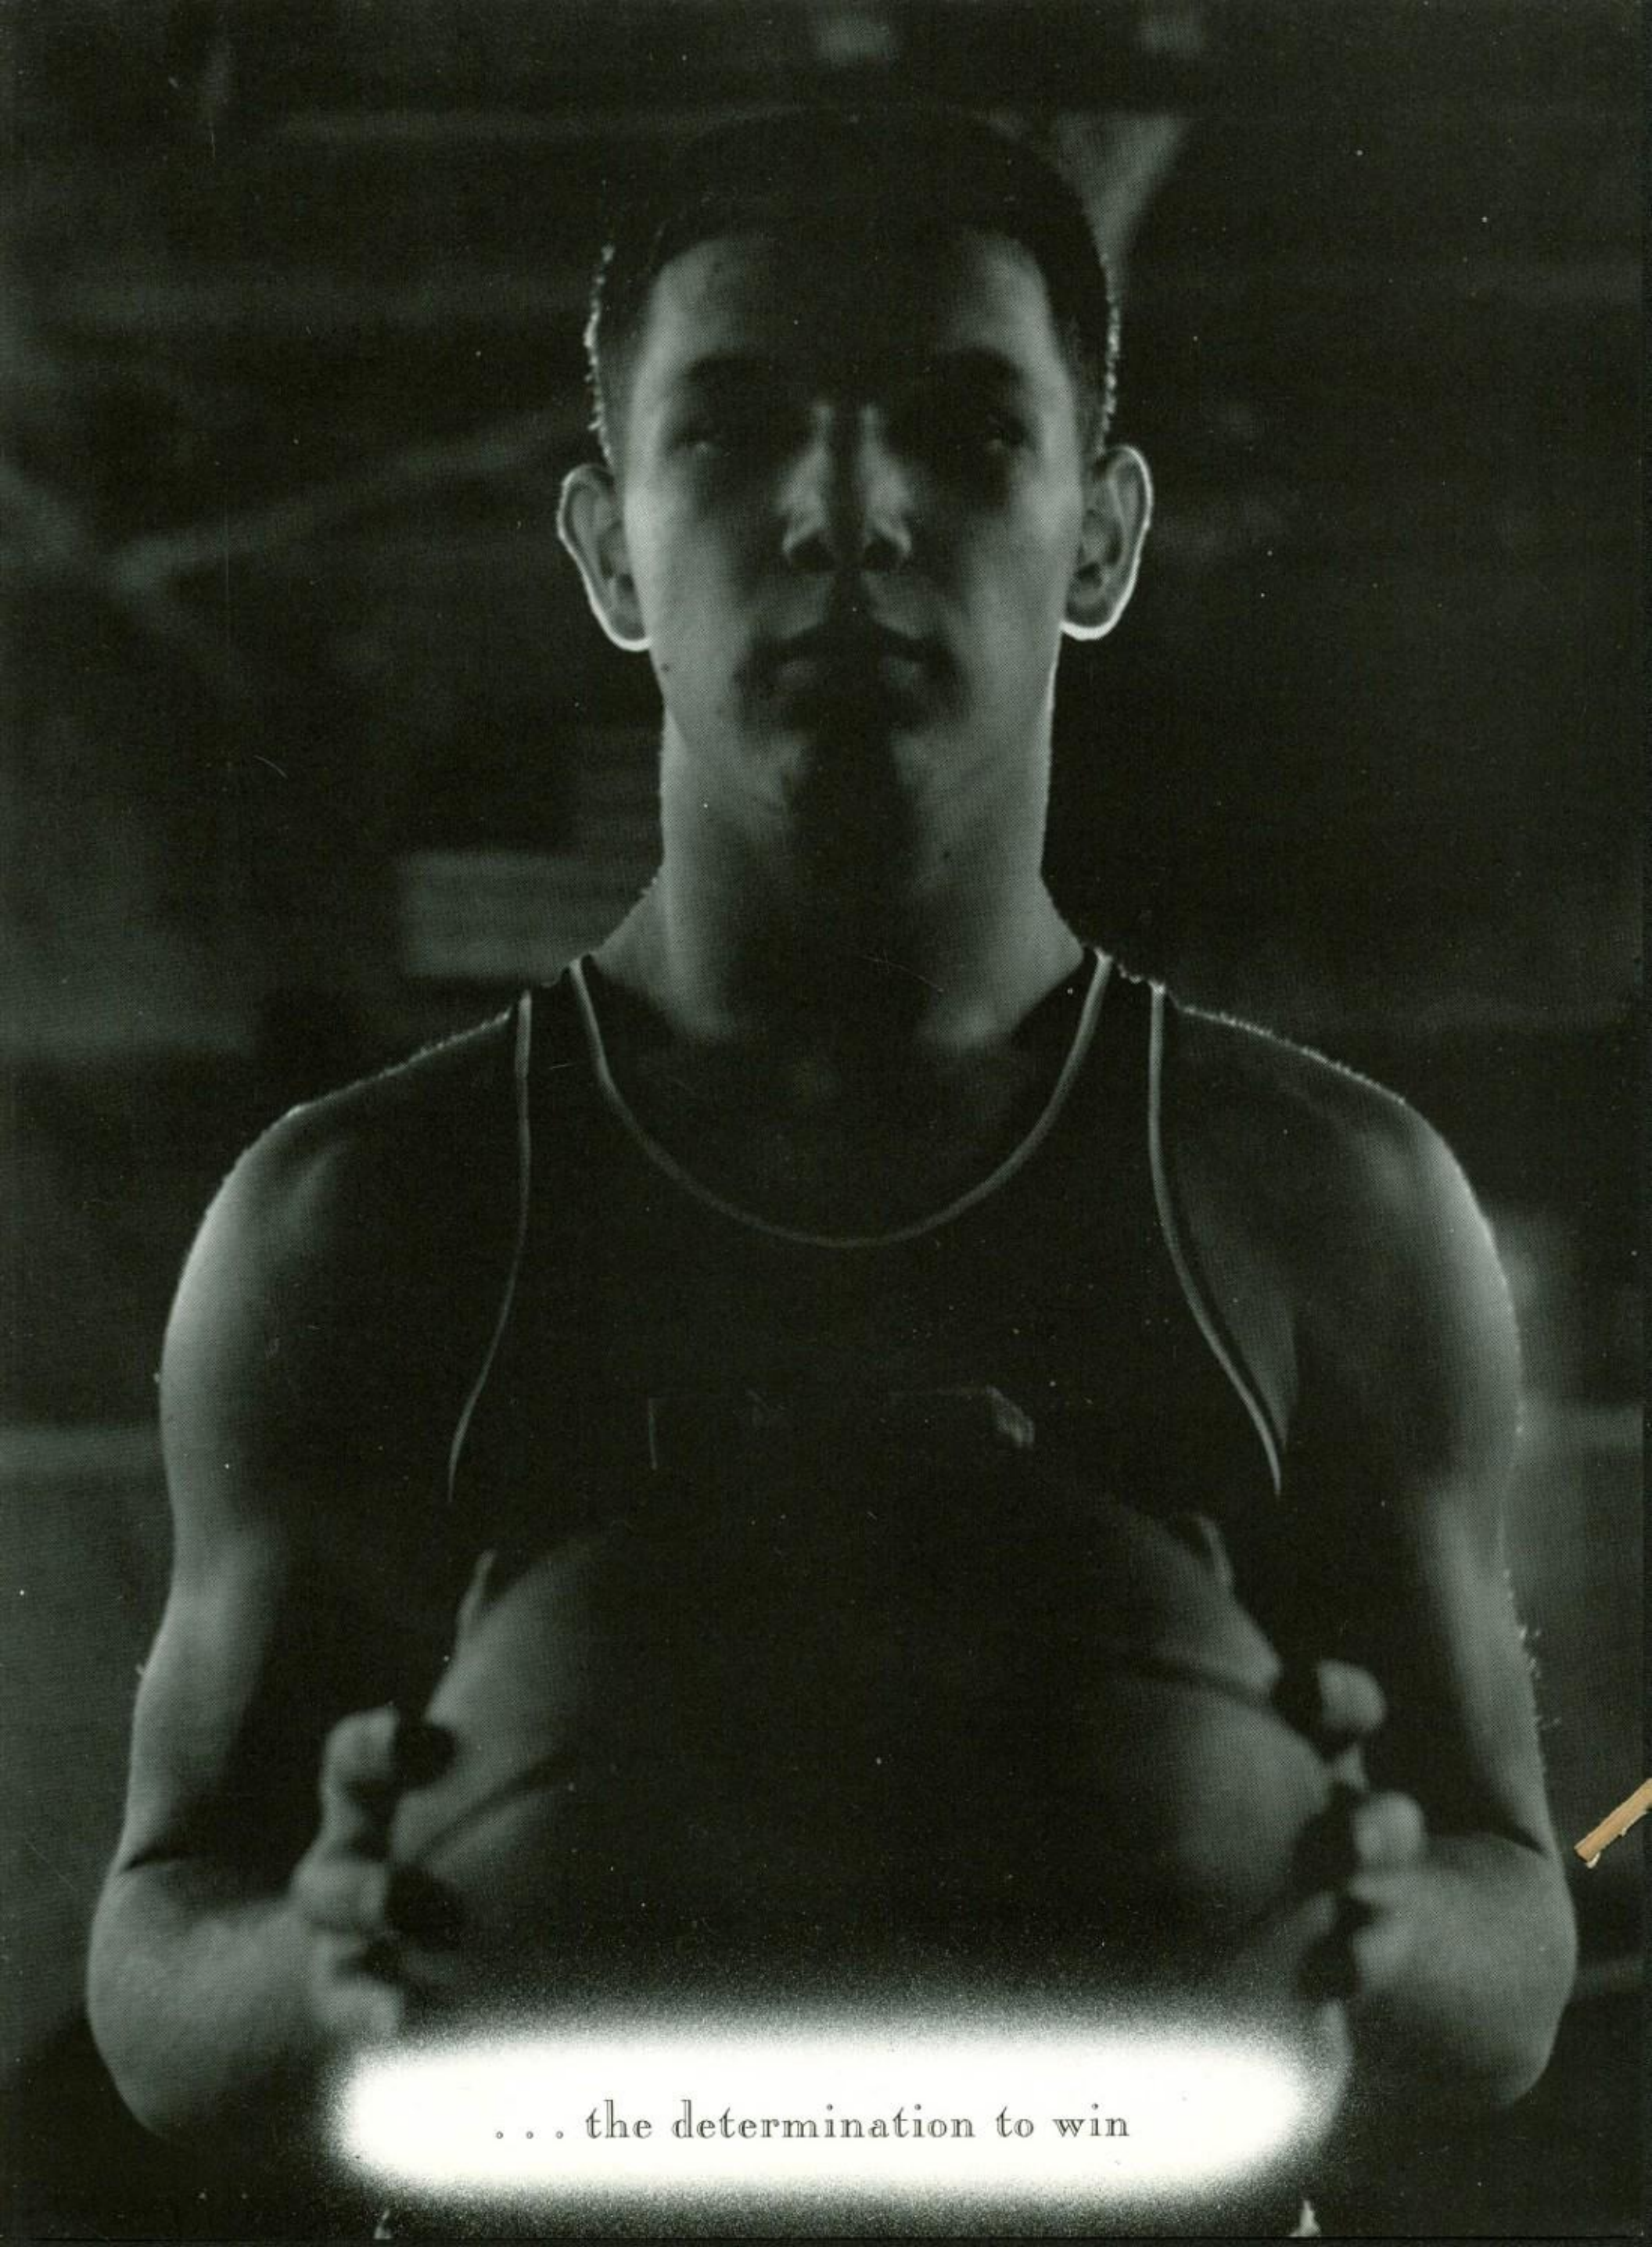
. . . a scene of gaiety

. . . a structure of beauty,

our alma mater,

the symbolic evidence of

. . . the will to serve



. . . the determination to win

. . . accomplishments recognized

. . . our need for humility

A Source of Many Opportunities

Few high schools in the South are better equipped than Walter M. Williams High School. Our auditorium, among the largest in the state, has a seating capacity of approximately 2,700. Modern in all aspects, it houses a four manual organ with two large sound chambers to give a balanced system of sound.

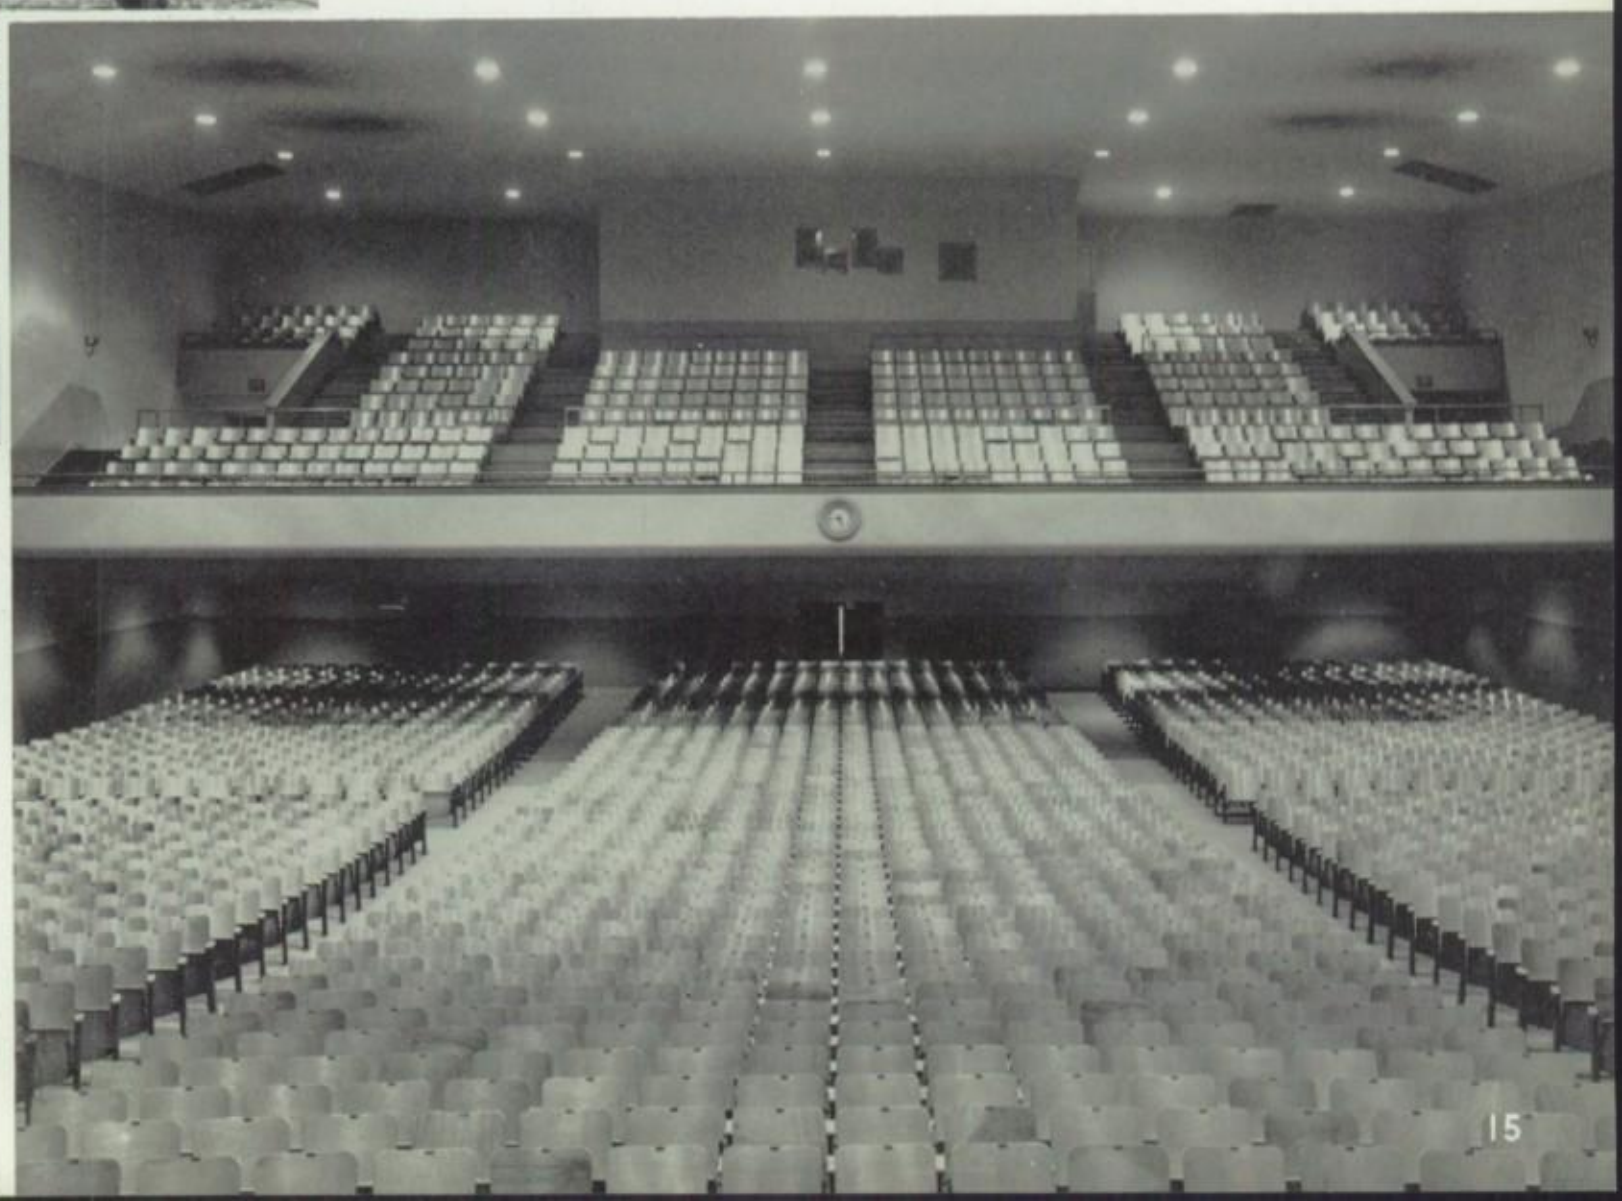
Just down the hall from the auditorium is our library, the real heart of any program of education. A glance at the card catalogue would convince anyone that we have a large collection of books. From the literature found on the shelves, one can learn of the greatest ideas of men from the beginning of written records. This attractive room invites study.

Down two flights of stairs and to the left is the cafeteria. Stretching spaciously the length of first floor from wing to wing is the area in which food for hundreds of students is cooked, served, and eaten. Each day W.H.S. students have the privilege of eating a well balanced lunch here at school. Two lunch counters serve simultaneously, each offering the students a choice of two plates. Because we operate under the school lunch program of the federal government, our students may purchase a plate of food and a half pint of milk for thirty cents.

Down the hall from the cafeteria are the new biology labs. With those of the chemistry, physics, and home economics departments, this completes a well-equipped laboratory program. Because biology is a required course, all students in high school eventually have the opportunity to work with the fine equipment. Everyone "tries his hand" at dissecting small animals and adjusting the microscope.

Down a short hallway from the biology lab wing is our gymnasium. Used almost continuously for classes, team practice, and various sports events, this is a most adequate facility. Approximately 3,000 people can be seated on the bleachers. When the bleachers are pushed back, there are many small practice courts. The gym houses classrooms and locker rooms for both boys and girls.

These are some of the excellent facilities, and there are many more—fifty-three classrooms, language laboratories, a fine arts building, a guidance suite, and many offices. All of these contribute to the high quality of education available at Williams High School.



DEDICATION

Although our senior year is ending, our search for life's treasures has just begun; and we are standing on the threshold of new opportunities. Soon our school days will be but a memory, yet the impact of W.H.S. upon our lives will be a part of us forever. The thrilling games, the enthusiastic school spirit, and the lasting influence of classmates and teachers will be a part of our golden memory. Among those who have instructed and guided us, we shall never forget one whose praise and dedication we cherish. We have enjoyed her friendship, were stimulated by her forthright discussions, and admired her philosophy of life. Her genuine joy of living can not help but be felt and loved by all who come in contact with her. Walking with us, she has helped us with many important school problems. It is with much pride and affection that we dedicate our 1963 Doe-Wah-Jack to

FOREWORD

We are living in an exciting and challenging world full of opportunities for all if one is willing to seek to uncover them. This year the DOE-WAH-JACK has presented this most essential aspect of high school life—OUR SEARCH. We hope that with this theme we shall present one of the greatest challenges confronting the youth of today.

On the first sixteen pages of the 1963 DOE-WAH-JACK specific areas of OUR SEARCH are portrayed through full-page photographs. The dividers are used to convey philosophical ideas worth striving for and attaining. The senior pictures are larger due to the discontinuation of individual quotations. Appropriate selections have been used to enhance the concepts represented on the dividers.

The 1963 DOE-WAH-JACK has tried to depict the many ways in which our Alma Mater has enriched our lives and has helped us to gain more fruitful ideals for continuing OUR SEARCH.

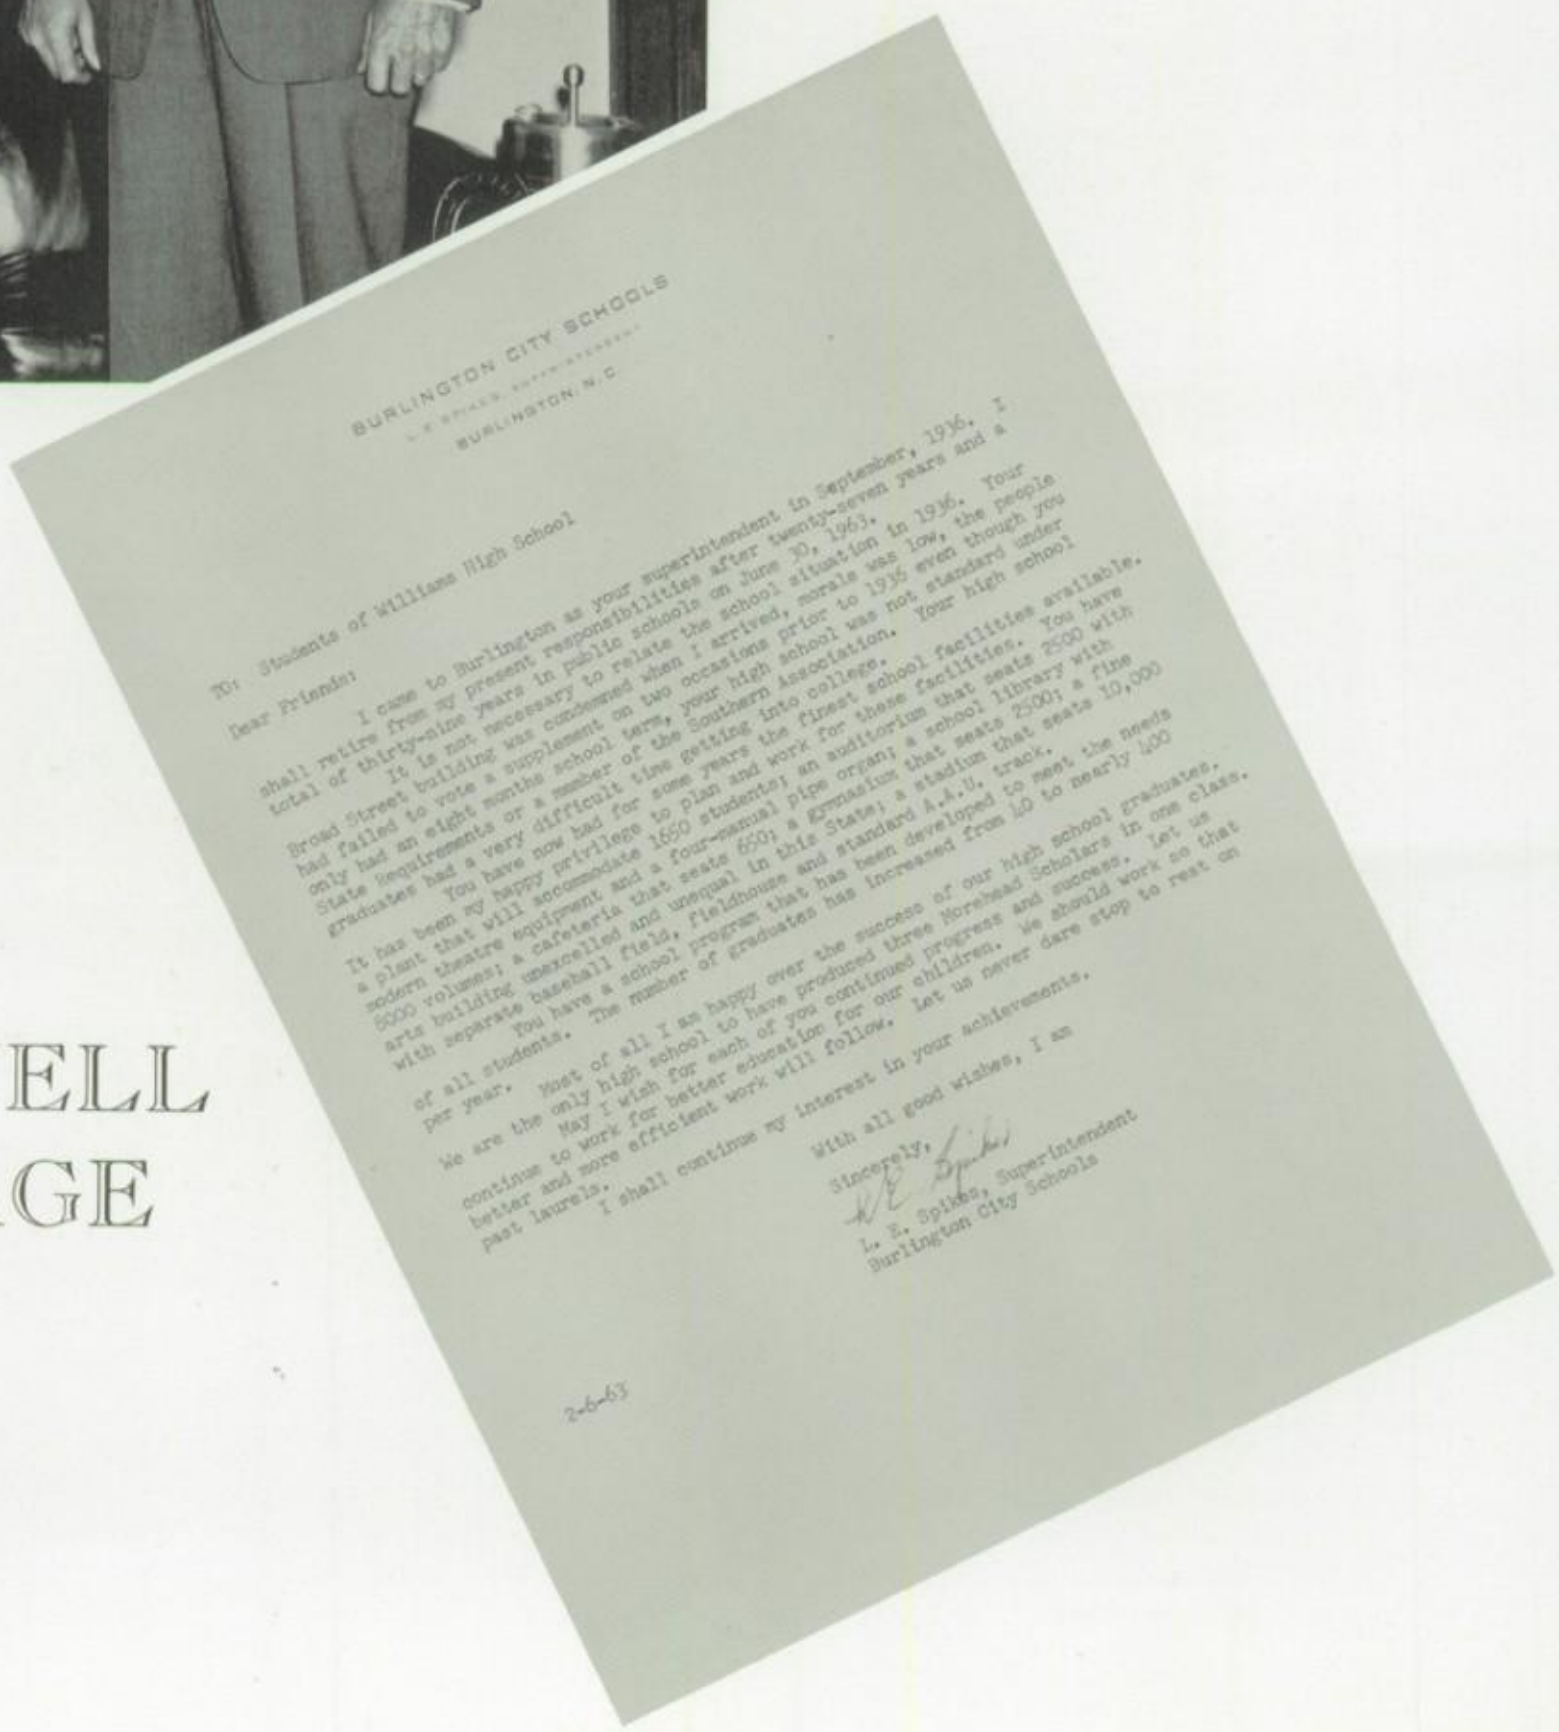
FAREWELL MESSAGE

DR. L. E. SPIKES

With a sincere interest for education in Burlington, Dr. L. E. Spikes's continued efforts to improve all phases of our school life will not be forgotten. This year, among his many other contributions, Dr. Spikes has helped to revitalize completely our fine arts department. Dr. Spikes will always be remembered for his dynamic approach to the process of education.



BURLINGTON CITY SCHOOLS
L. E. SPIKES, SUPERINTENDENT
BURLINGTON, N. C.

TO: Students of Williams High School

Dear Friends:

I came to Burlington as your superintendent in September, 1936. I shall retire from my present responsibilities after twenty-seven years and a total of thirty-nine years in public schools on June 30, 1963.

Broad Street building was condemned when I arrived, morale was low, the people had failed to vote a supplement on two occasions prior to 1936 even though you only had an eight months school term, your high school was not standard under State Requirements or a member of the Southern Association. Your high school graduates had a very difficult time getting into college.

It is not necessary to relate the school situation in 1936. Your You have now had for some years the finest school facilities available. It has been my happy privilege to plan and work for these facilities. You have a plant that will accommodate 1650 students; an auditorium that seats 2500 with modern theatre equipment and a four-manual pipe organ; a school library with 8000 volumes; a cafeteria that seats 650; a gymnasium that seats 2500; a fine arts building unexcelled and unequal in this State; a stadium that seats 10,000 with separate baseball field, fieldhouse and standard A.A.U. track.

You have a school program that has been developed to meet the needs of all students. The number of graduates has increased from 40 to nearly 400 per year. Most of all I am happy over the success of our high school graduates. We are the only high school to have produced three Morehead Scholars in one class.

May I wish for each of you continued progress and success. Let us continue to work for better education for our children. We should work so that better and more efficient work will follow. Let us never dare stop to rest on past laurels.

I shall continue my interest in your achievements.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

L. E. Spikes, Superintendent
Burlington City Schools

In the Burlington City School System are approximately 365 teachers. From the Administrative Staff these teachers seek materials, information, and assistance in planning programs. The capable members of the Administrative Staff work diligently to bring the best modern educational practices to the Burlington City Schools.

SCHOOL BOARD

All programs and projects for the Burlington City Schools must be approved by the School Board. This group of citizens represent the community in making decisions that will affect the caliber of education made available to the youth of our city. Board members give many hours of their time to fulfill their responsibility.

W.H.S. ADMINISTRATORS

The principal and assistant principal work together. One of their big problems is setting up the calendar for the year so that there will be no conflict in the programs.

MR. HARRINGTON

A new face can be seen in the principal's office and the halls this year—that of our principal, Mr. J. W. Harrington. Coming to us from New Hanover High in Wilmington, Mr. Harrington has assumed his new responsibility with a minimum of confusion and a maximum of know-how. We are extremely fortunate to have such a well qualified leader with whom to work.

MR. MILLER

Williams High School has a new assistant principal this year in the person of Mr. Fred J. Miller. Assuming new responsibilities, he has shown a great deal of efficiency in this important job as well as in all his other duties.

SCHOOL SECRETARY

MRS. GERTRUDE TISDALE

Never too busy to answer questions or to assist students or faculty, Mrs. Gertrude Tisdale capably fulfills her many duties with a smile. Her working hours are filled with answering the phone, typing transcripts and reports, and keeping endless records.

GUIDANCE COUNSELORS

"Are my S.A.T. scores high enough?" "Should I go into service after graduation?" "Am I eligible to take trig next year?" These are familiar questions heard in the offices of our guidance counselors, Miss Kathryn Ray and Mr. Bob Warren. These two capable and dedicated people are always willing to help us with our curriculum, college, or vocational problems. We are all deeply indebted for their help and guidance.

LIBRARIANS

Whether making catalogue cards for new books, revising the vertical files, or helping students learn about the many resources of the library, our librarians, Miss Mary Ellen Hobson and Miss Rachel Howard, are always ready to help us find information for term papers or special reports or material for parallel reading. Their efforts have contributed to our library's becoming one of the best in the state.

CAFETERIA MANAGER

Planning varied yet well-balanced menus presents a tremendous task to our cafeteria manager, Mrs. Mae Tomlinson. She is always faced with the problem of preparing enough food to meet the daily demand of students. Capably she directs a large staff of workers and maintains a high standard of service.

ENGLISH

Abraham Lincoln once said, "We must think anew," and indeed we must in this day of vast communications. This tremendous task falls on the English department.

The first step in becoming able to think anew is gaining a basic knowledge of the fundamentals of grammar which comes only after much practice and drill.

After these principles have been mastered, we then proceed to writing. Numerous hours of hard work and study have to be put into themes and research papers. The reward finally comes when we can say and know that we have done the very best that we are capable of doing. Our newest course, Advanced Writing and Composition, offers us a good opportunity to advance and broaden

Oral recitation also plays a very important part in our learning to think anew. Through this medium we learn, not only to express our own thoughts, but also to accept the thoughts of others.

From composition and oral recitation we proceed to literature, a study of the writings of others. We explore works—Chaucer's "The Nun's Priest's Tale," Shakespeare's Macbeth, or Keat's "Ode on a Grecian Urn"—and study the lives of great authors.

The last step in our learning to think anew is the application of these principles of English to our own lives. If this step is not taken, then all the other steps—grammar, composition, oral recitation, and study of literature—have not been fruitful.

Bonjour, mademoiselle—adios, senor—salve, Lucia—these are some of the first phrases that beginning French, Spanish, and Latin students ponder over. For the first few weeks, students sit in a daze and wonder what is going on. The language laboratory adds more puzzlement, and pretty soon students are ready to give up for good. Through the conscientious efforts of the teachers, however, the dawn finally breaks; and students begin to respond to questions.

through the study of foreign languages.

EIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

As the year progresses, the French "r" becomes easier to pronounce, and the southern drawl begins to vanish. Latin students cease to tremble in class when called upon to translate, and Spanish vocabularies become less tedious to learn.

Thus as the year draws to a close, we are sure that we know all the French, Spanish, and Latin there is to know. We hardly realize how very little we do know until college knocks the props from under us, and we again sit in a daze of bewilderment. Quelle chance!

The importance of mathematics in our lives is undeniable: it is the basic tool of all the sciences; it is the backbone of industry and economics; in fact, our culture could not exist without mathematics.

High students are fortunate to have such a complete and varied mathematics department. If we are planning a commercial course, we may supplement it with business arithmetic or general math. From Rockefeller's report on education we find these words of wisdom: "It is essential that we enable young people to see themselves as participants in one of the most exciting eras in history, and to have a sense of purpose in relation to it."

Unquestionably we are living in an exciting era, an era of amazing inventions, scientific progress, and space travel. But, we still have many questions to be answered. A look at the past can aid us in our search for solutions to our problems.

and failures to live with other men.

STUDIES DEPARTMENT

In world history we discuss international affairs as reported in the daily newspaper. We also analyze past events to learn the errors and contributions in each. American history gives us an opportunity to look at our own country's development. Economics is the study of the way people earn a living. In this course we gain much valuable information concerning the importance of banking and credit and the stock market. In all we have gained valuable new insights.

As we understand our democratic heritage, we are thankful to be citizens of the United States and look forward to making some contribution to the American way of life.

In this period of civilization, when the importance of the space age and atomic reactors is paramount in the minds of many, we here at W.H.S. must advance to meet the challenge. We learn about the spermatophyta phylum, the hydronium ions, and force vectors in the phases of science taught at our school. In the classrooms we learn the fundamentals of biology, physics, and chemistry; and in the laboratory we actively employ this knowledge.

the colorful euglena and the primitive amoeba. In the chemistry lab, young scientists study the finer aspects of such processes as glass bending. In the physics lab, we measure the specific heat of solids.

Williams High School offers a general science course especially for girls—physical science. In it girls may obtain a general knowledge of all the sciences.

To the youth of today all phases of science are extremely important, and we are fortunate in having such an excellent science department.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

"Musical training is a more potent instrument than any other, because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul."—Plato

Composed of orchestra, band, glee club, art, and drama groups, W.H.S. can boast of a superior fine arts department.

The many activities carried on by the fine arts department are enjoyed by all, whether it is enjoying an orchestra concert, or listening to the half-time program presented by the band, singing with the glee club at a Christmas assembly, viewing an art exhibit, or attending a Dramatics Club play.

The fine arts program at W.H.S. has been a fast growing phase of the instructional program. With the organization of the orchestra in 1955 and the completion of the fine arts building in 1960, the music program was virtually fulfilled. Recently art and dramatics have been added to the fine arts department to complete a well-rounded program of arts for all interested students.

Physical education develops perseverance

The girls' physical education classes always begin with exercises in order to limber up stiff joints.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

These girls are making a centipede, one of the skills in tumbling.

"One and two and—one and two and—class halt one two." Thus the physical education classes begin with their daily exercises. Girls complain about sore joints while boys just smile and trot around the field for another lap.

Physical education has become a very important part of the school curriculum. Due to the growing belief in the importance of physical fitness, a one-year course in this subject is required. In addition to creating physical fitness, physical education also builds a strong feeling of good sportsmanship.

Boys train their bodies which are fast growing into manhood by lifting weights, wrestling, and playing seasonal games such as football, soccer,

Coach Avercrombie gives pointers during the weigh lifting program of the boys' physical education.

and basketball. Girls enjoy such sports as tumbling, archery, and basketball.

In addition to building strong bodies, physical education also builds alert minds. Quick thinking and good judgment are needed in many skills, and these attributes carry over into later life.

Physical education has its rewards too. Long hours of drill and practice produce a well-learned skill. This knowledge of a skill in turn projects self-confidence.

Education is the development of both mind and body. While academic subjects develop the mind, physical education helps to build the body and produce a well-rounded individual. Both phases of our education are vitally important.

MRS. FRANCES DAWSON

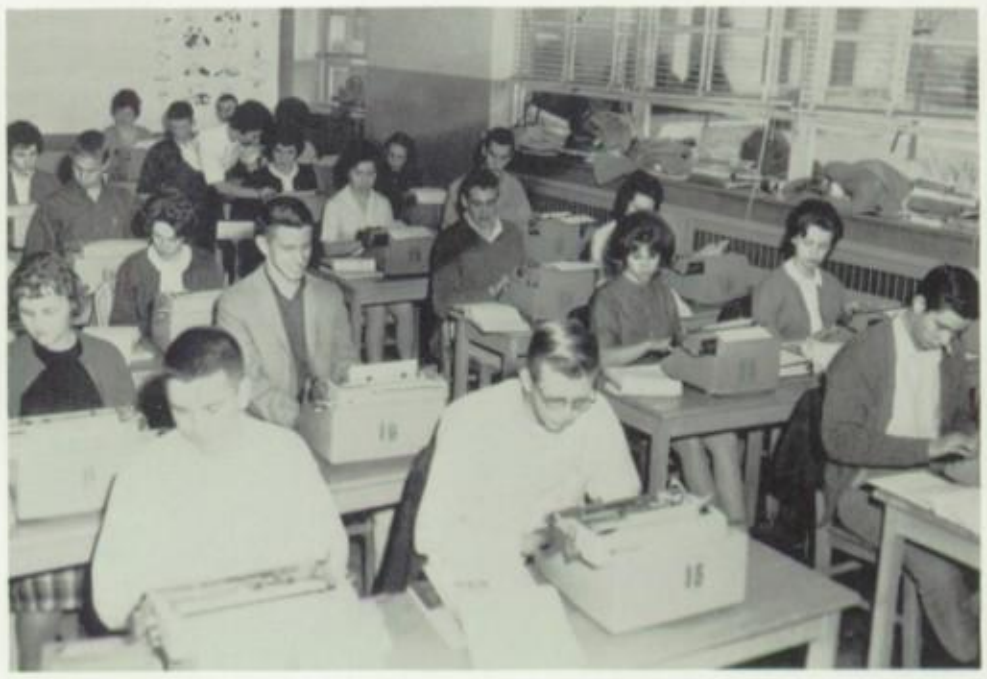
INESS DEPARTMENT

In typing classes, students learn to handle one of the most important devices of our time. Dexterity, coordination, and speed are essential in this class. Bookkeeping teaches students the intricate steps involved with accounting and inventory as well as the steps to good organization.

Another phase of the business program is the Industrial Cooperative Training and Distributive Education programs. Here, students get practical experience in trades and selling by spending half of the day actually doing the things they learn about during their mornings in class.

These facets of our school program enable Williams High School students to compete more successfully in the business field.



W.H.S. offers a variety

In our curriculum are electives as well as required courses. These elective courses have much practical value. For example, instruction in driver training instruction not only offers students the opportunity to learn the safest techniques of driving, but also enables parents to purchase automobile insurance at a reduced rate.

Those who wish a deeper understanding of the Bible will profit by studying the history and background of biblical times. Bible I, Bible II, and Bible Survey offer our students excellent instruction in this important subject.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. HELEN M. POPE
A.B., East Carolina; Home Economics.

The home economics wing includes a sewing lab, a foods lab, and a beautifully furnished suite of rooms that look like a lovely home. In Home Economics II and III our girls learn what every girl should know—the important skills of homemaking. Building on knowledge acquired in Home Economics I, the young ladies learn tailoring, advanced meal planning and preparation, and the art of concocting delightful party delicacies. The home economics girls also decorate for, prepare, and serve the annual Christmas party for the faculty.

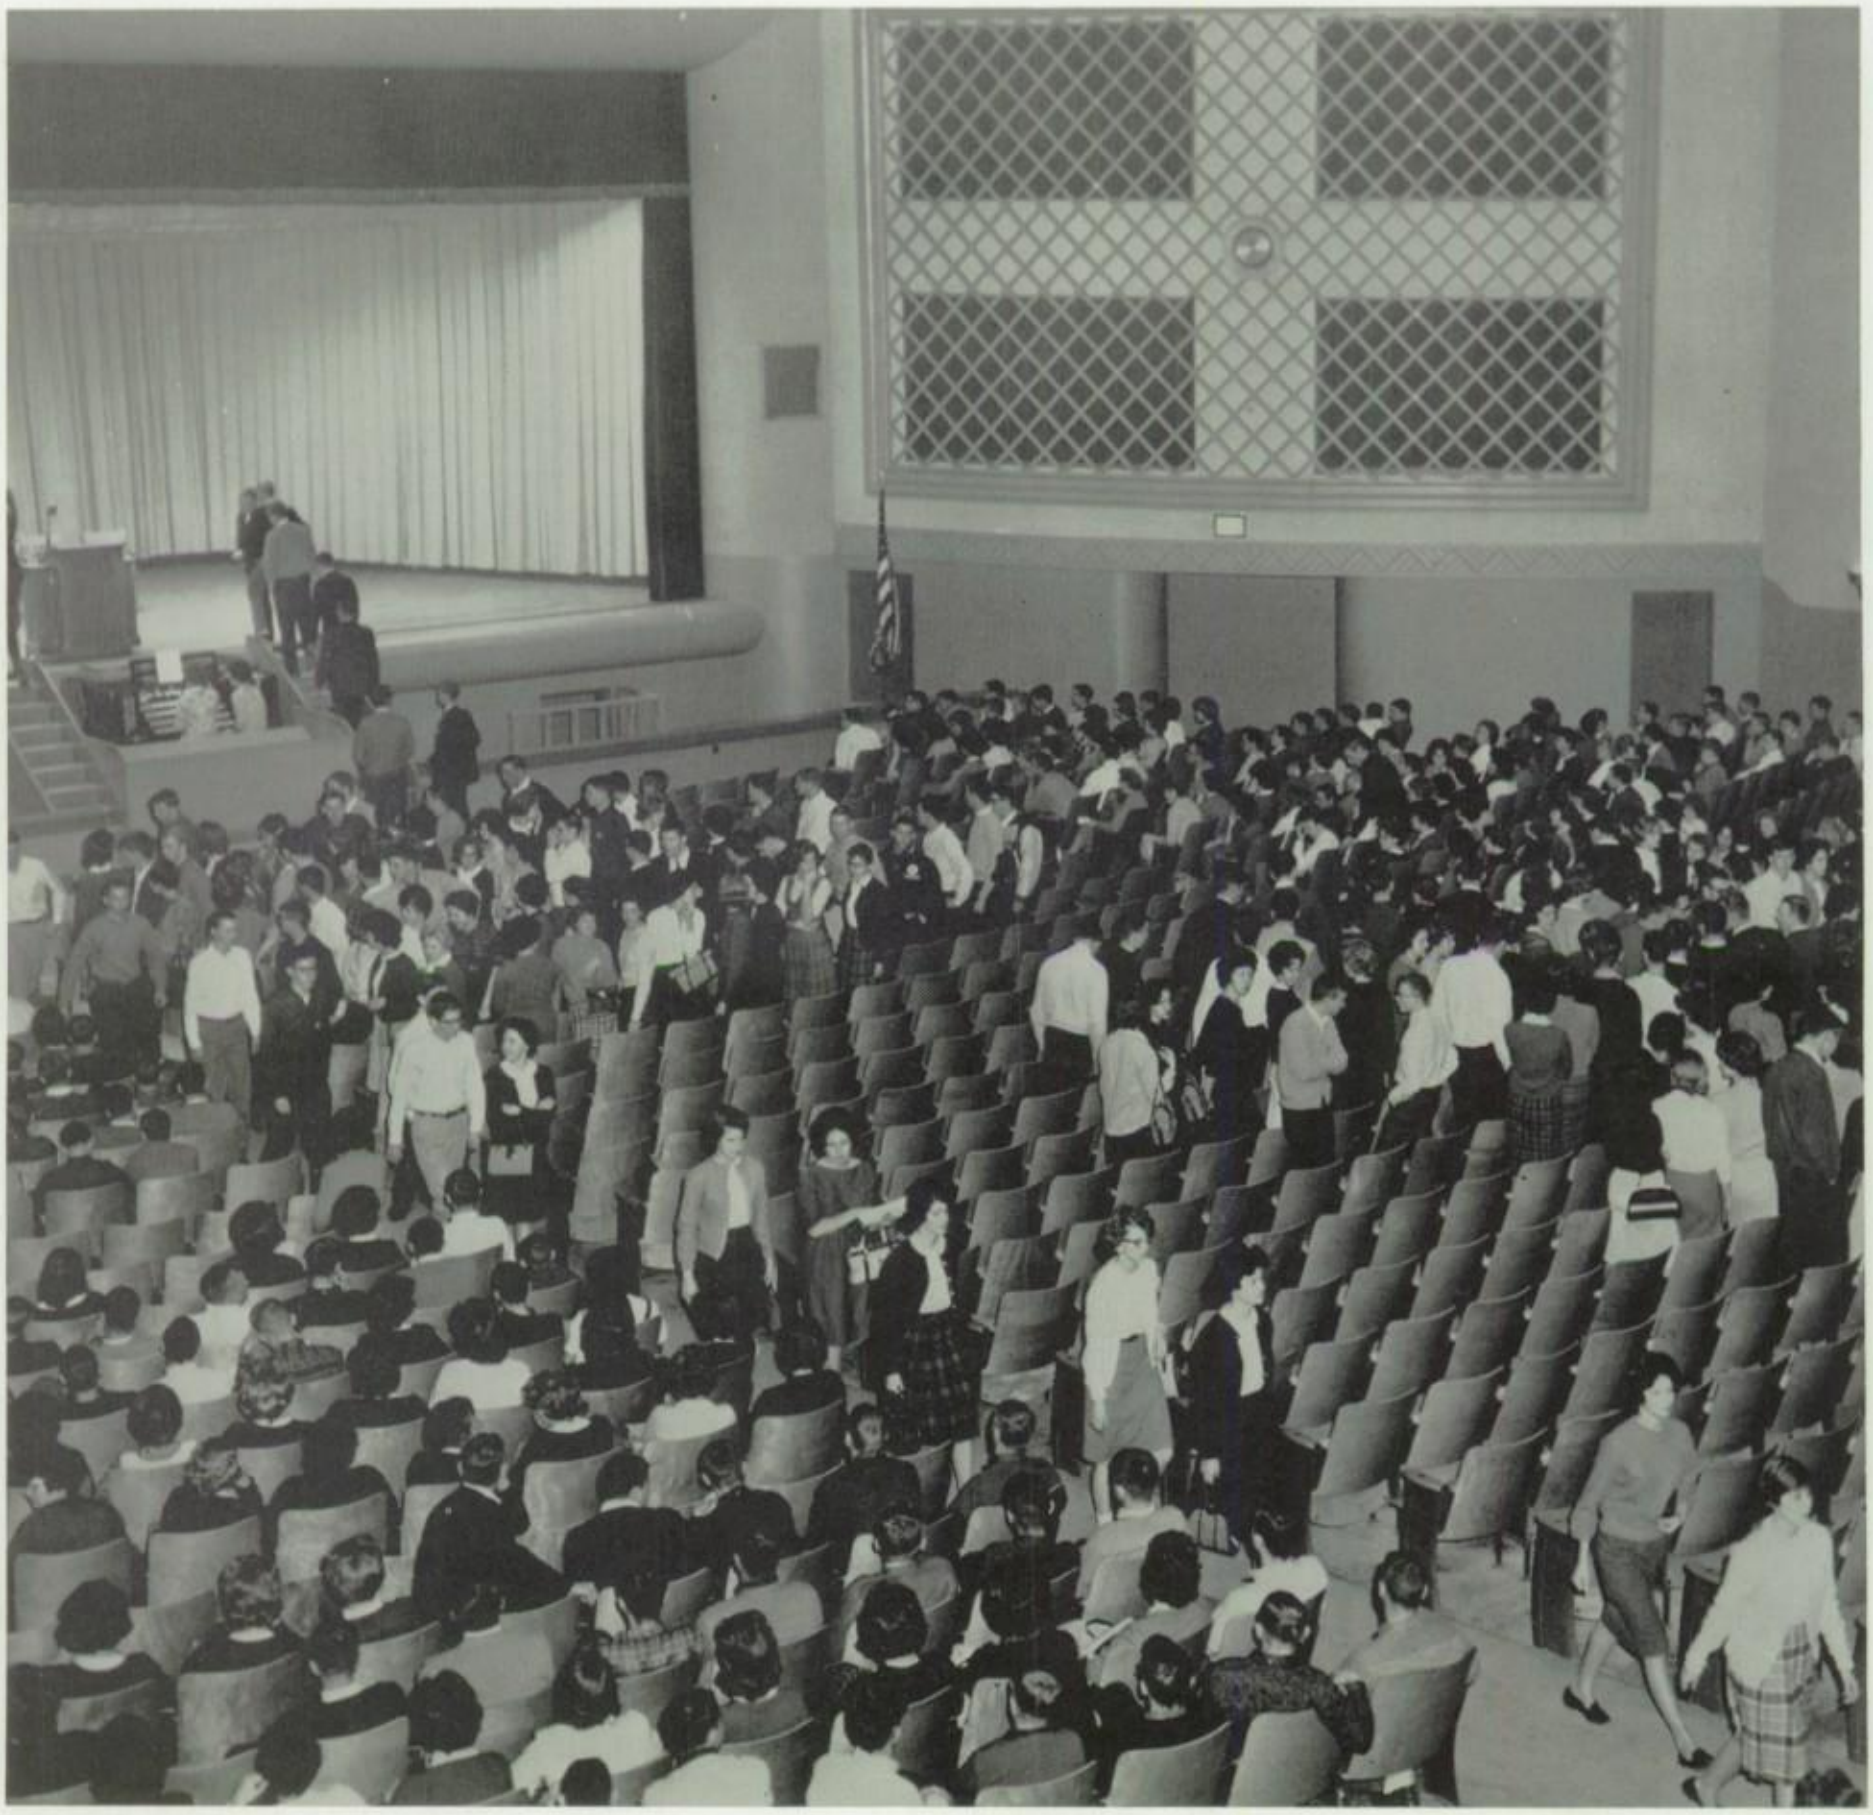
"Not for self, but for all"



With the arrival of graduation, seniors know the thrill of reaching one of life's valued goals. High school examinations, registration, and report cards become matters of the past, and seniors look forward to the exciting years of college or employment which lie ahead.

As the months of the final year of high school dwindle to days, the dreams of Class Day, Baccalaureate, and actually possessing a diploma are approaching reality. We wonder how it will seem to be doing something else next September. Suddenly we feel a bit lonesome, almost reluctant to give up our place in assembly, the long hallways, and the happy friendships that have become so dear. Too soon years of high school become cherished memories as we go on to meet new challenges.

IN MEMORIAM

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away," yet the memory of a loved one lives on. Joe Phillips shall live on in the hearts and minds of the members of the Class of 1963. Although he was small in stature, his heart was big enough to encompass the genuine joy of living. The recollection of his friendly smile brightened the days for many of his classmates. Our fondest memory of Joe is his love of fun and laughter, and we cherish the opportunity to have known him.

JUNIOR MARSHALS

W. Kernodle, D. Cox, W. Hughes, M. A. Smithers, W. Purdy, B. McClintock, J. Pitts, Chief. Seated: J. McIver, B. Ippolito.

From a class of 450 juniors, only nine were chosen by the seniors. These nine Junior Marshals will usher at all commencement exercises. In their formal attire our marshals lend dignity to baccalaureate and graduation. Our marshals also have the privilege of attending other events planned for members of the graduating class.

MASCOTS

Master Michael Greene
Miss Sally Anderson

Late in December during a Senior Class assembly, these two children charmed the entire audience and were elected mascots by the Senior Class. These youngsters attend all Senior activities including the Prom, for which they are part of the Queen's Court.

VALEDICTORIAN

The highest honor a senior can attain is that of being named valedictorian. Receiving this honor in the Class of 1963 is a girl who has the distinctive characteristics of a scholar and a leader. This young lady has proven her ability by maintaining a remarkably good academic record, achieved only through diligent effort. The Class of 1963 is proud of its scholars and congratulates one who has won the highest distinction of all, Miss Jill Isley.

SALUTATORIAN

The Class of 1963 bestows its second highest scholastic honor upon its salutatorian, Miss Patsy Williams. Through conscientious effort, Patsy has maintained a scholastic average only slightly lower than that of the valedictorian. This second distinction could be given to no more worthy individual than Patsy, who in her four years of high school has merited the respect and admiration of all.

"Not on top but climbing"

"At last we've reached the status of upper classmen" is the foremost thought of juniors in September. However, the feeling of really belonging to the junior class is not actually acquired until the arrival of class rings. Being juniors also means assuming additional responsibilities. The paramount task is finding projects to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. This outstanding social event requires much work and time on the part of juniors; but when they walk into the beautiful wonderland that they have created, all the work is compensated for. The next big occasion is in the final assembly when juniors move up to fill in the senior section.

MOTTO
"Aim high but reach higher"

306-308

One can never know the torments of utter confusion until he enters the confines of an institution of learning the size of Williams High School after a carefree summer as a member of the largest class ever to enter our Alma Mater; for already she is "ours," as we look to her numerous successes and accomplishments with pride never before felt for a school. The first few days there was little joy, as we the Sophomores felt the frustration of sheer impossibility while searching for the elevator to the fourth floor where, as advised by upper classmen, the sophomore cafeteria had always been located. Gradually we learned, tardiness became unusual rather than common, and we began to feel a part of W.H.S.

As our minds turned to other things, we began to feel the excitement of exploring new fields and finding more knowledge than we had known to exist. We had new subjects for study, more personal responsibility, and more freedom than ever before experienced. Our minds awakened, opened up to search, and broadened with knowledge and experience.

We came from different schools to mold into a single class, the molding begun by our feelings of pride at seeing our class fill almost half of the auditorium and looking at our own finished homecoming float.

Yes, we made it, and we are proud of our achievements, both as individuals and as a group. However, most of all we are proud of being members of the Sophomore Class of Williams High School.

STUDENT RECOGNITION

After weeks of preparation and an audition before a committee, these students were selected to represent W.H.S. in the All-State Orchestra. First Row: Ann Lentz, Melvin Butler, Julia Graef, Cathy Ellington. Second Row: Kris Arthur, Ann Kernodle, Jackie McCuiston, Harriet Blue. Third Row: Terry Rushin, Jody Pardue, Becky Rogers, Billy Landrum.

After auditioning for a committee, Terry Rushin and David Amos were chosen to represent W.H.S. in the All-State Band.

The annual Elk's Club Leadership Contest in Alamance County was won this year by Reid Dusenberry and Janet Wrenn. This contest, based on school, community, and church activities as well as leadership ability and service to others, is nationwide, each county selecting two individuals to compete for state honors. State winners compete for national honors.

MISS KATHRYN RAY

"Is this enough copy for this page?" "How large should this picture be?" "Is this layout all right?" So many questions and all directed toward one individual, our adviser, Miss Kathryn Ray. How she puts up with us, we'll never know. Always patient, always eager to help and answer our questions, always willing to give us the answer to our problems whether they be large or small, she is a person of a million talents. She knows the time to be serious and when to give us the words of encouragement that we need, yet there are times for fun too when she is one of us, laughing and joking. She made our trip to New York one that we will never forget for she knew how to keep us in tow, yet let us have a good time in the process. She is our adviser, but more than that, she is our friend, always treating us as individuals and trying to keep our best interests at heart. With much respect and love, the DOE-WAH-JACK staff of 1963 pays tribute to Miss Kathryn Ray.

BOURBON

Miss Pat Dean, traditional Southern belle of old Bourbon Street, reigned majestically with Nat Harris as her Southern beau.

During intermission prom servers in French costumes entertained with their original choreography.

The spotlight threw a ribbon of light through the shadows, pointing the way for each stately member of the court. With each announcement a couple walked slowly toward the royal throne. Spectators amid the rusty old shops and hotels lined the sidewalks of quaint Bourbon Street to watch the festive street scene.

Prom servers, sophomores elected by the junior class, practice after school for many days in order to present an appropriate dance for the royal court and other spectators. Juniors and seniors in their formal attire applauded their efforts.

HOMECOMING 1962

The highlight of the evening came when our own loveliest Southern belle, Miss Kay Loy, escorted by George Lupton, was crowned queen of all Homecoming activities by Mrs. Brenda Oliver Carey, 1961 Homecoming queen. The atmosphere was electric with anticipation as the crown was placed on the lovely forehead, and then a loud cheer vibrated through the cold, crisp air with the announcement: "Miss Kay Loy—W.H.S. Homecoming queen for 1962."

The crowd stood motionless as the band played the W.H.S. "Alma Mater." Their last Homecoming was a very impressive moment for Seniors. "All thy friends are by thy side—Linger and never fade."—and Seniors realized as never before how dear the days had become.

The court marched off the field, and many happy girls returned to their seats, their minds so filled with ecstatic memories that they did not feel the cold.

Five happy semi-finalists stood before the applauding student body. Just a few minutes ago these girls had been among the fifteen contestants competing for the title of Homecoming Queen. Breathlessly the girls backstage awaited the decision as to who would be selected by audience applause as finalists, the second step to "queenship."

A hush descended over the auditorium as each of the finalists was announced: Martha Jo Knight, Janice Matkins, Sue Holt, Kay Loy, and Susie Boswell. Unrestrained applause then shattered the once quiet atmosphere.

Now the decision as to who would be elected W.H.S. Homecoming Queen for 1963 was in the hands of the judges. Only one girl can win the title, but each of the fifteen contestants has many wonderful memories of the day she contended for the title of Homecoming Queen.

CROWN OF VICTORY

The winning float in the 1962 Homecoming parade was created by the Keyettes and the Key Club. The twenty-five foot float was composed of five beautiful mannequins dressed in long gowns made of various colored paper flowers. Six large bells were strung from the four ivy-covered poles making a court. The theme, Victory Belles, was symbolic of the student body's anticipation of ringing the victory bell and of the Homecoming dance which would be attended by many W.H.S. "Southern belles."

The Homecoming sponsors, representing the many clubs, wore lovely corsages of yellow chrysanthemums trimmed with black ribbons. Each girl excitedly waited for the half-time program when she would join the queen's court in forming a colorful crown of victory.

From the opening kickoff our boys completely outclassed the Salisbury team, piling up six touchdowns and a 33-0 final score. A cold and rainy second half drove most of the 4,000 spectators from the stadium, but those who stayed watched Jim Donnan personally account for fifteen points before Kenny Walker took over and ran the Yellow Jacket defense ragged himself. Coach Frye had praise for the entire team, which never lacked spirit. Here we see Donnan on an end run.

Our Student Government, an organization composed of homeroom representatives and the student body officers, has the task of keeping the student body informed of their responsibility for school morale and of encouraging all students to participate in school projects.

STUDENT COUNCIL

First Row: J. McIver, D. Amick, S. Kimball, G. Lupton. Second Row: P. Jarvis, P. Jones, K. Pyne, J. Wrenn, J. Pitts. Third Row: J. Newlin, W. Amick, R. Dusenberry.

The Student Council, composed of the student body officers, the three class presidents, the editors of the DOE-WAH-JACK and BARKER, the head cheerleader, the drum major, and the chairmen of the five student government committees, gives careful consideration to the many phases of school life. These students have the responsibility of patterns of leadership and working for school progress.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

The greatest leadership responsibility of our high school is carried by our student body officers: Pete Jarvis, president; Paul Jones, vice president; Janie McIver, secretary; and Johnny Pitts, treasurer. These four capable students have given many long hours to the job of running our student government program effectively.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Front Row: Paul Jones, Katrina Pyne, Wayne Amick, Bobby Sumner, Roger Barbee.
Back Row: Vickie Baldwin, Kaaren Sorrell, Stefanie Graef.

When Paul Jones calls the Inter-Club Council to order, he is addressing the presidents of all the clubs at W.H.S. This group coordinates the activities of all the clubs so that dances are properly spaced, ideas for floats are not duplicated, and money-making projects are cleared. The vice president of the student body serves as chairman for this group.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Specialized committees play a vital part in the services of Student Government. These Committees are involved with such varied activities as keeping our school attractive, organizing the school budget, and pub-

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

Student government officers are elected through a rather intricate process. The responsibility for organizing all phases of this process belongs to the Elections Committee. Before ballots are cast, there must be a publicity campaign following nominations. An assembly program which includes speeches by all candidates and their campaign managers is part of the activities.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The Public Relations Committee cheerfully goes about its task of acquainting new students to the moods and customs of W.H.S. Before the school year began, the committee conducted the new students through a tour of the school. The committee is also valuable for establishing better relations between W.H.S. and the community.

Wayne Amick, Advertising Editor, is shown here consulting with junior assistants EmMae Horton and Charlie Jones as to the arrangement of a typical advertisement. The financial success of the 1963 Doe-Wah-Jack depends heavily upon the selling of advertisements which comes under the jurisdiction of the Advertising Editor.

Soon the feverish excitement of meeting the February 6th deadline will subside, and senior members of the annual staff will look forward to the arrival of the finished product for presentation to the student body.

Without the combined efforts of the Typists, Patsy Williams and Faye Hurdle, the written portion of the annual could never go to press. These girls reproduce all the copy of the different departments. Billy Kernodle, one of the junior assistants, is shown here cropping a snapshot, one of the many ways in which juniors on the staff gain valuable experience.

The beauty section, superlatives, and divider pages come under the jurisdiction of Feature Editors Janette Layton and Judy Sutton. Each year brings a challenge to these girls of finding a unique way of presenting traditional features.

Write, proofread, write again—this is the life of Copy Editors Melvin Butler and Janet Lamm. They must write the thousands of words of copy that describe a year's history of Williams High. Without the worn Thesaurus, these two could not work effectively.

WAH-JACK

Business Manager George Lupton and Sports Editor Paul Jones work faithfully on the Doe-Wah-Jack. Wise budgeting of funds is the duty of the Business Manager. The Sports Editor or a junior assistant attends all sports events to provide full sports coverage.

Photography Editor Susie Kimball and a junior assistant, Linda Wooton, consult with Art Editor Susie Boswell as to the layout of a class section. The photography department of the annual is in charge of all pictures—including individual student pictures—and the organization and layout of class sections. The Art Editor is responsible for designing the cover and divider pages, as well as any other art work that the various sections need.

Thanks to the careful planning and organization of the Co-Editors, Billie James and Reid Dusenberry, the Doe-Wah-Jack finally reaches the press. They are shown here consulting with Miss Ray, Adviser to the staff, who always finds the solution to any problem that arises and whose help and guidance are indispensible. Students receiving a finished copy of the annual find it difficult to realize the hard work and long hours that go into producing a yearbook.

Photographers Bill Landrum, Joe Robertson, and Eliott Fisher get their cameras ready so as not to miss a candid shot. These boys had to take, develop, and print hundreds of pictures. Meeting deadlines depends upon how rapidly these boys produce pictures.

Jane Wright, editor of the society section of The Barker gives helpful advice as junior assistants Ann Mullis, Janie McIver, and Mary Ann Smithers try their hand at organizing news of the W.H.S. social events for publication.

KEY CLUB

Front Row: Mr. Guthrie, adviser; Danny Cox; Billy Kernodle; Melvin Butler, secretary; Rogert Barbee, president; Clay Hemric, vice president; Dick Hughes, treasurer; Richard Stoneburner; Mr. Walker, adviser. Back Row: Bill Landrum, Roy Danford, Mickie Bowman, Bill Hughes, Bill Hutton, Larry Surber, George Lupton, Jim Mackintosh, Jimmy Holt, Robert Schoderbek, Len Moss, George Colclough, Charlie Jones, Mark Price, Elliott Fisher.

"We build," the motto of the Key Club, exemplifies the goals for which this service club stands. Whether folding student-faculty directories or selling peanut brittle to raise money for projects, the Key Club strives to develop initiative and leadership by serving the school and community. Activities of the Key Club include helping with the United Fund drive, presenting an assembly program, and compiling the annual Key Club Student-Faculty Directory.

Union Ridge Church was the setting for the annual Key Club Parent-Son Banquet this year. George Lupton, master of ceremonies for the occasion, introduced the keynote speaker, Dr. Spikes.

Members of the Keyettes and the Key Club work diligently on their winning float.

"The highest of distinctions is service to others" is the motto of the sister club of the Key Club, the Keyettes. They strive to achieve this goal through their projects, such as keeping a bulletin board calendar of weekly activities in the main hall, buying a picture case for the lobby of the gymnasium, and taking care of the children from the Elon orphanage.

In all their activities Keyettes prove their willingness to serve and their determination to become good citizens.

JUNIOR CIVITAN CLUB

Seated: C. Stedman, R. Pate, T. Burke, S. Lassiter, S. Hooper, V. Forrester. Second Row: W. Amick, Pres.; A. Hancock, V. Pres.; P. Jones, Sec.; R. Dusenberry, Treas.; J. Pitts, Sgt.-at-Arms; P. Wiles, E. Jones, B. Coble.

In a very impressive ceremony during Homecoming assembly, the Junior Civitan Club paid tribute to their past adviser, Mr. Miller.

From the Civitan cheerleaders to the muscular dystrophy drive, the Junior Civitan Club stands for service. This club, affiliated with the Burlington Civitan Club, endeavors to provide an opportunity for its members to serve the school and the community.

This year the Junior Civitan Club presented a portrait, painted by Susie Boswell, to Mr. Fred Miller, the club's former adviser. Other activities of the Junior Civitan Club include the distribution of Heart Fund containers to Burlington merchants and of the Four-Way Test book marks to all students.

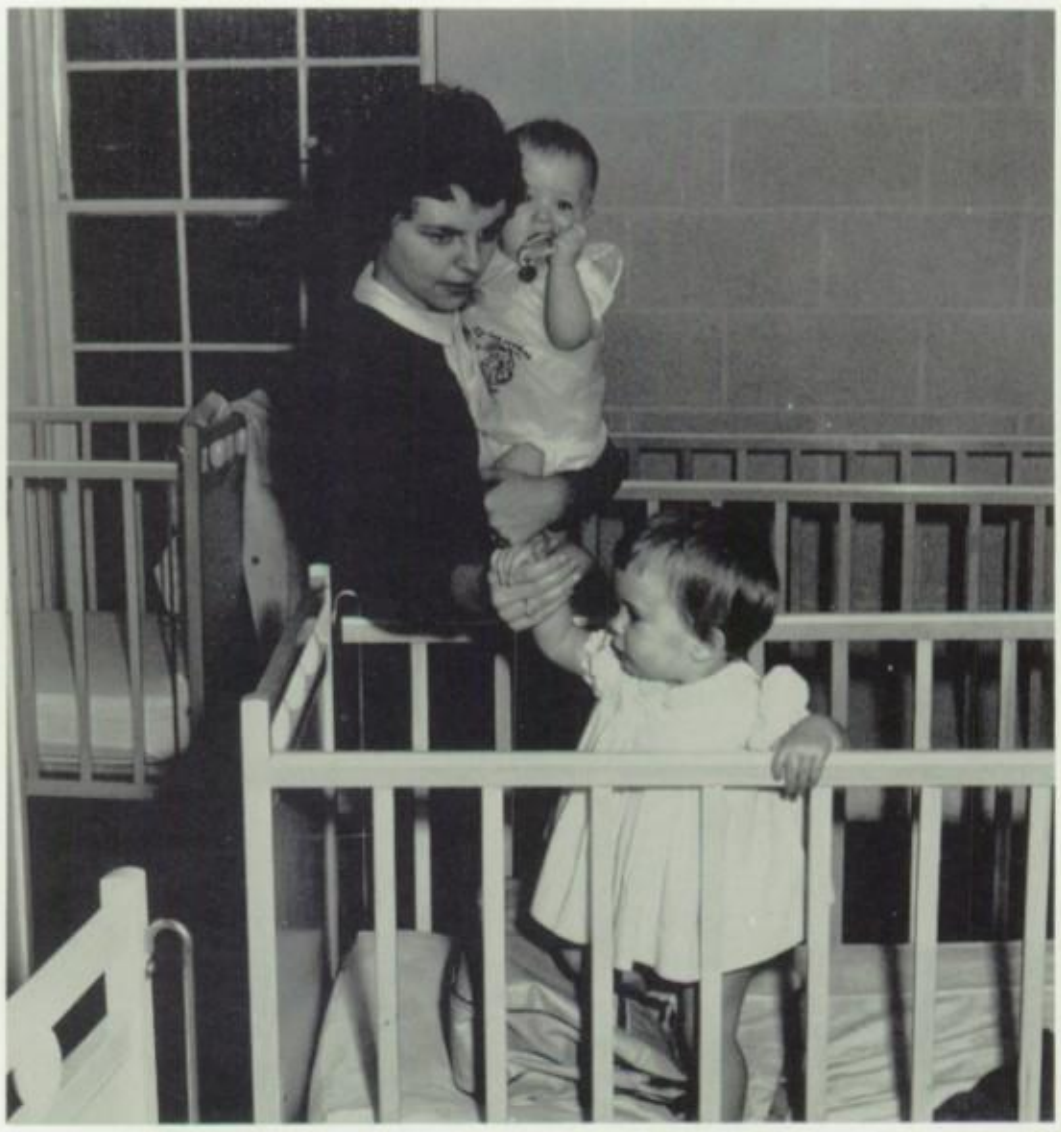
Service means willing hands, Civinette hands, as these girls strive to boost school spirit and carry out various worthwhile projects in the community. Among their activities are keeping the gymnasium trophy cases clean, making and donating the canvas for our football goalposts, and giving a picnic for children at the Elon orphanage.

Cooperation and enthusiasm give the Civinettes the force to achieve their worthwhile goals.



The Civinettes served as baby-sitters for parents attending a church convention.

The motto of the Junior Exchange Club, "Unity for Service," denotes the goals of this club: to provide service for both the school and the community and to create high standards for its members.

Each year the Junior Exchange Club donates to the school library a number of books pertaining to many subjects. Every month the pocket bulletin, listing all W.H.S. activities, is distributed to the students. Another service of the Junior Exchange Club is helping a needy family during the year.

Junior Exchange Club boys sell doughnuts to raise money for the support of service projects.

The motto of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, "Pure words, pure thoughts, pure actions," clearly emphasizes the goal of this club: Christian character throughout the home, school, and community. As an important service club, it completes many projects during the year, the most familiar of which is selling doughnuts.

Lights in the auditorium grew dim, the sound of a stately march filled the air, and the line of seniors carrying lighted candles began its dignified processional. Top scholars in the junior class watched with tense expectancy. Each wondered, almost afraid to hope, if he would know the thrill of being tapped for membership in this distinguished organization, the National Honor Society. He hoped desperately that his scholastic average and his personal qualifications in the areas of character, leadership, and desire to serve would prove adequate. Hours of study and efforts to develop unselfishly one's better characteristics are rewarded by this sort of recognition.

Change for the sake of changing is not progress. Combining the Speech Club and the Debating Club, however, promises progress. Since the membership of both clubs was so nearly the same, the one organization should prove doubly effective. The new organization, which meets once a month, provides its members experiences that will enable them to grow in the areas of public speaking and debating.

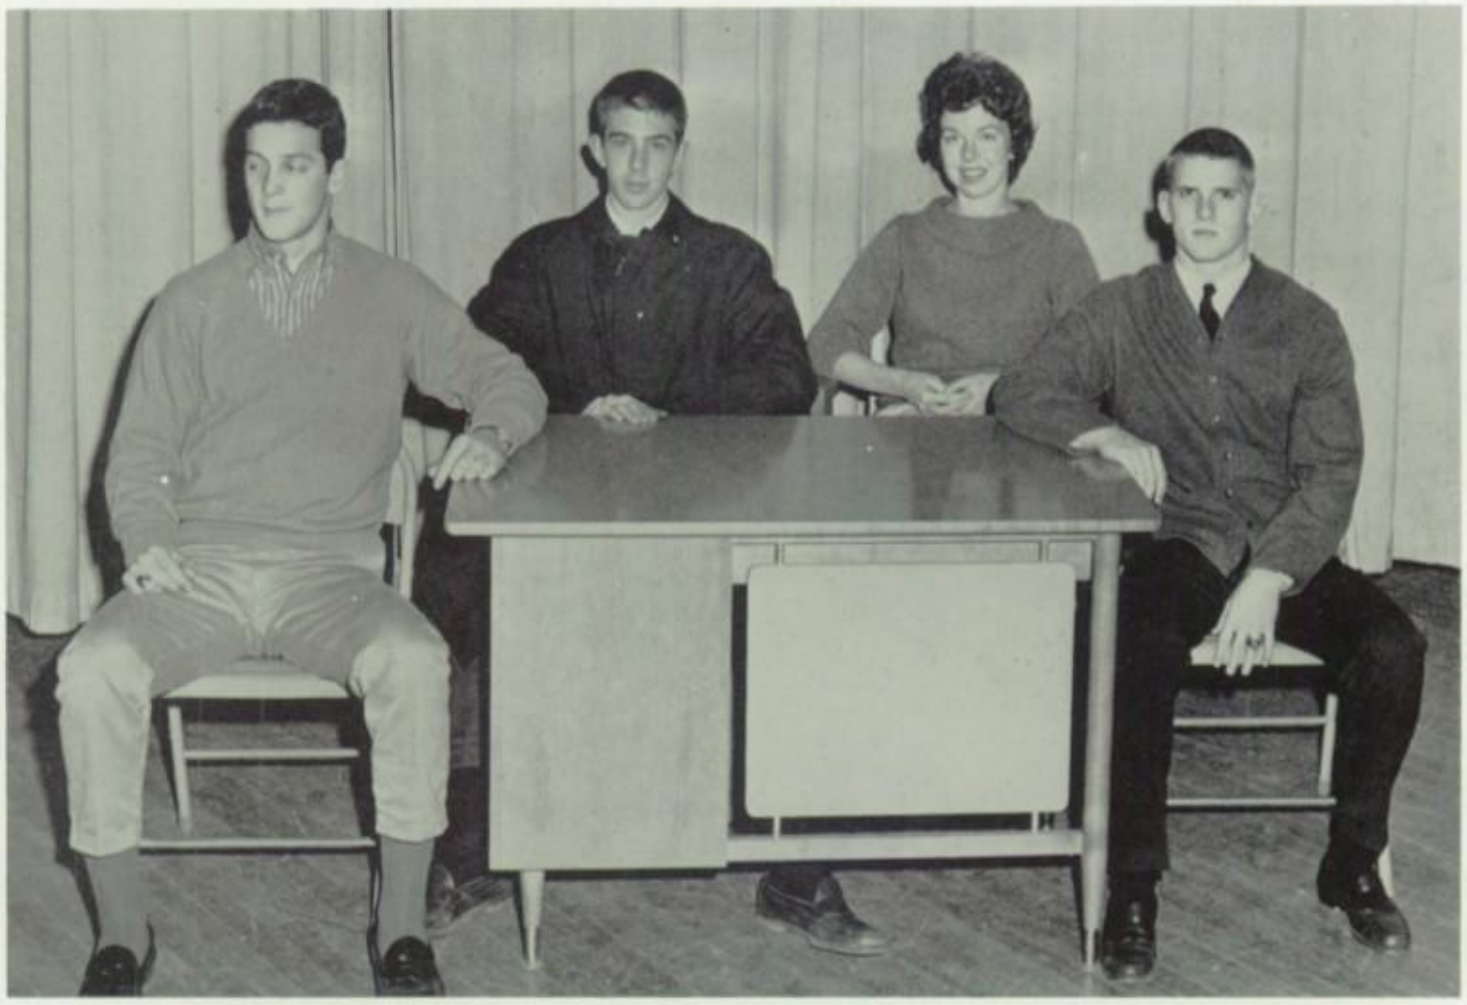
Blanchard, and G. Lupton composing the first team. These boys will compete in the Triangle Debates with high hopes of winning in the district and going on to the state finals in Chapel Hill.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE



G. Lupton, C. Hemric, K. Sorrell, W. Purdy. Not Pictured: T. Rushin.

Public speaking is a chore for some, but for others it is a natural talent. Regardless of which category one belongs to, his desire to gain skill in public speaking can be satisfied if he can meet the entrance requirements for the National Forensic League. To become a member, a student must obtain thirty points. These can be won by activities such as participating in assembly programs and giving devotionals.

DRAMATICS CLUB

In order to become a member of the Dramatics Club, a student must earn a certain number of points which may be obtained by acting in plays or by being a member of one or more crews.

This year the club presented "Ghosts Go West" which proved to be very successful. Each year the club participates in the State Contest held in Chapel Hill.

The audience is pleased as the leading character, Caleb Jones, is carried into the room after being kidnapped.

Make-up is an important part of every dramatic production, and here, Sheridan Taylor is seen carefully applying grease paint on one of the characters from "The Ghosts Go West."

Cates, D. L. Lacy, P. Campbell, L. Hines.

One problem confronting each youth is that of making a vocational choice. A few of our clubs offer students an opportunity to explore some career fields. Our Future Teachers of America, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Danieley, is an organization composed of students who are interested in the teaching profession. Members of this club have an opportunity to learn some of the aspects of the work and to cultivate qualities essential for a good teacher. Activities of the F.T.A. Club this year include assisting teachers, serving as guides during the District N.C.E.A. meeting in September, and serving refreshments to teachers on orientation day.

LIBRARY CLUB

First Row: Miss Hobson, H. Cooke, J. Benfield, B. Crane, E. Andrews, Miss Howard. Second Row: S. Whetstine, L. Phares, T. Blanchard. Third Row: J. A. Roach, D. Baysden. Fourth Row: R. Bennett, L. Mahan. Back Row: S. Zelobowski.

Mastering the Dewey decimal system is not easy, but members of the Library Club find such knowledge necessary in order to shelve books. This group of students assigned to library work during their study periods also assist Miss Hobson and Miss Howard by checking books in and out, keeping the shelves in order, and signing library permits.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

First Row: J. Sigmon, S. Beard, C. McCormick, P. Ray, Mr. Casey. Second Row: L. Stutts, J. Melton, J. Stewart, M. J. Perry, P. Senter. Third Row: P. McCullock, L. Phares, N. Key, B. Smith, P. Wheeley, S. Blalock, G. Cooper. Fourth Row: L. Isley, D. Barger, F. Spivey, L. Howell, G. Peace, K. Sawyer, S. Sutphen. Fifth Row: K. Lineberry, G. Tyndall, R. Boland, N. Gregory, L. Wrightenberry, B. Mayo, D. Butcher.

Members of the Distributive Education Club are a group with serious intentions. Only D.E. students are eligible for membership. In addition to working on projects for the community and school, this group enjoys social activities to compensate for those they miss by being away from school activities for part of a day. Many members of this club have won offices and awards at district and state conventions.

INDUSTRIAL COOPERATIVE TRAINING CLUB

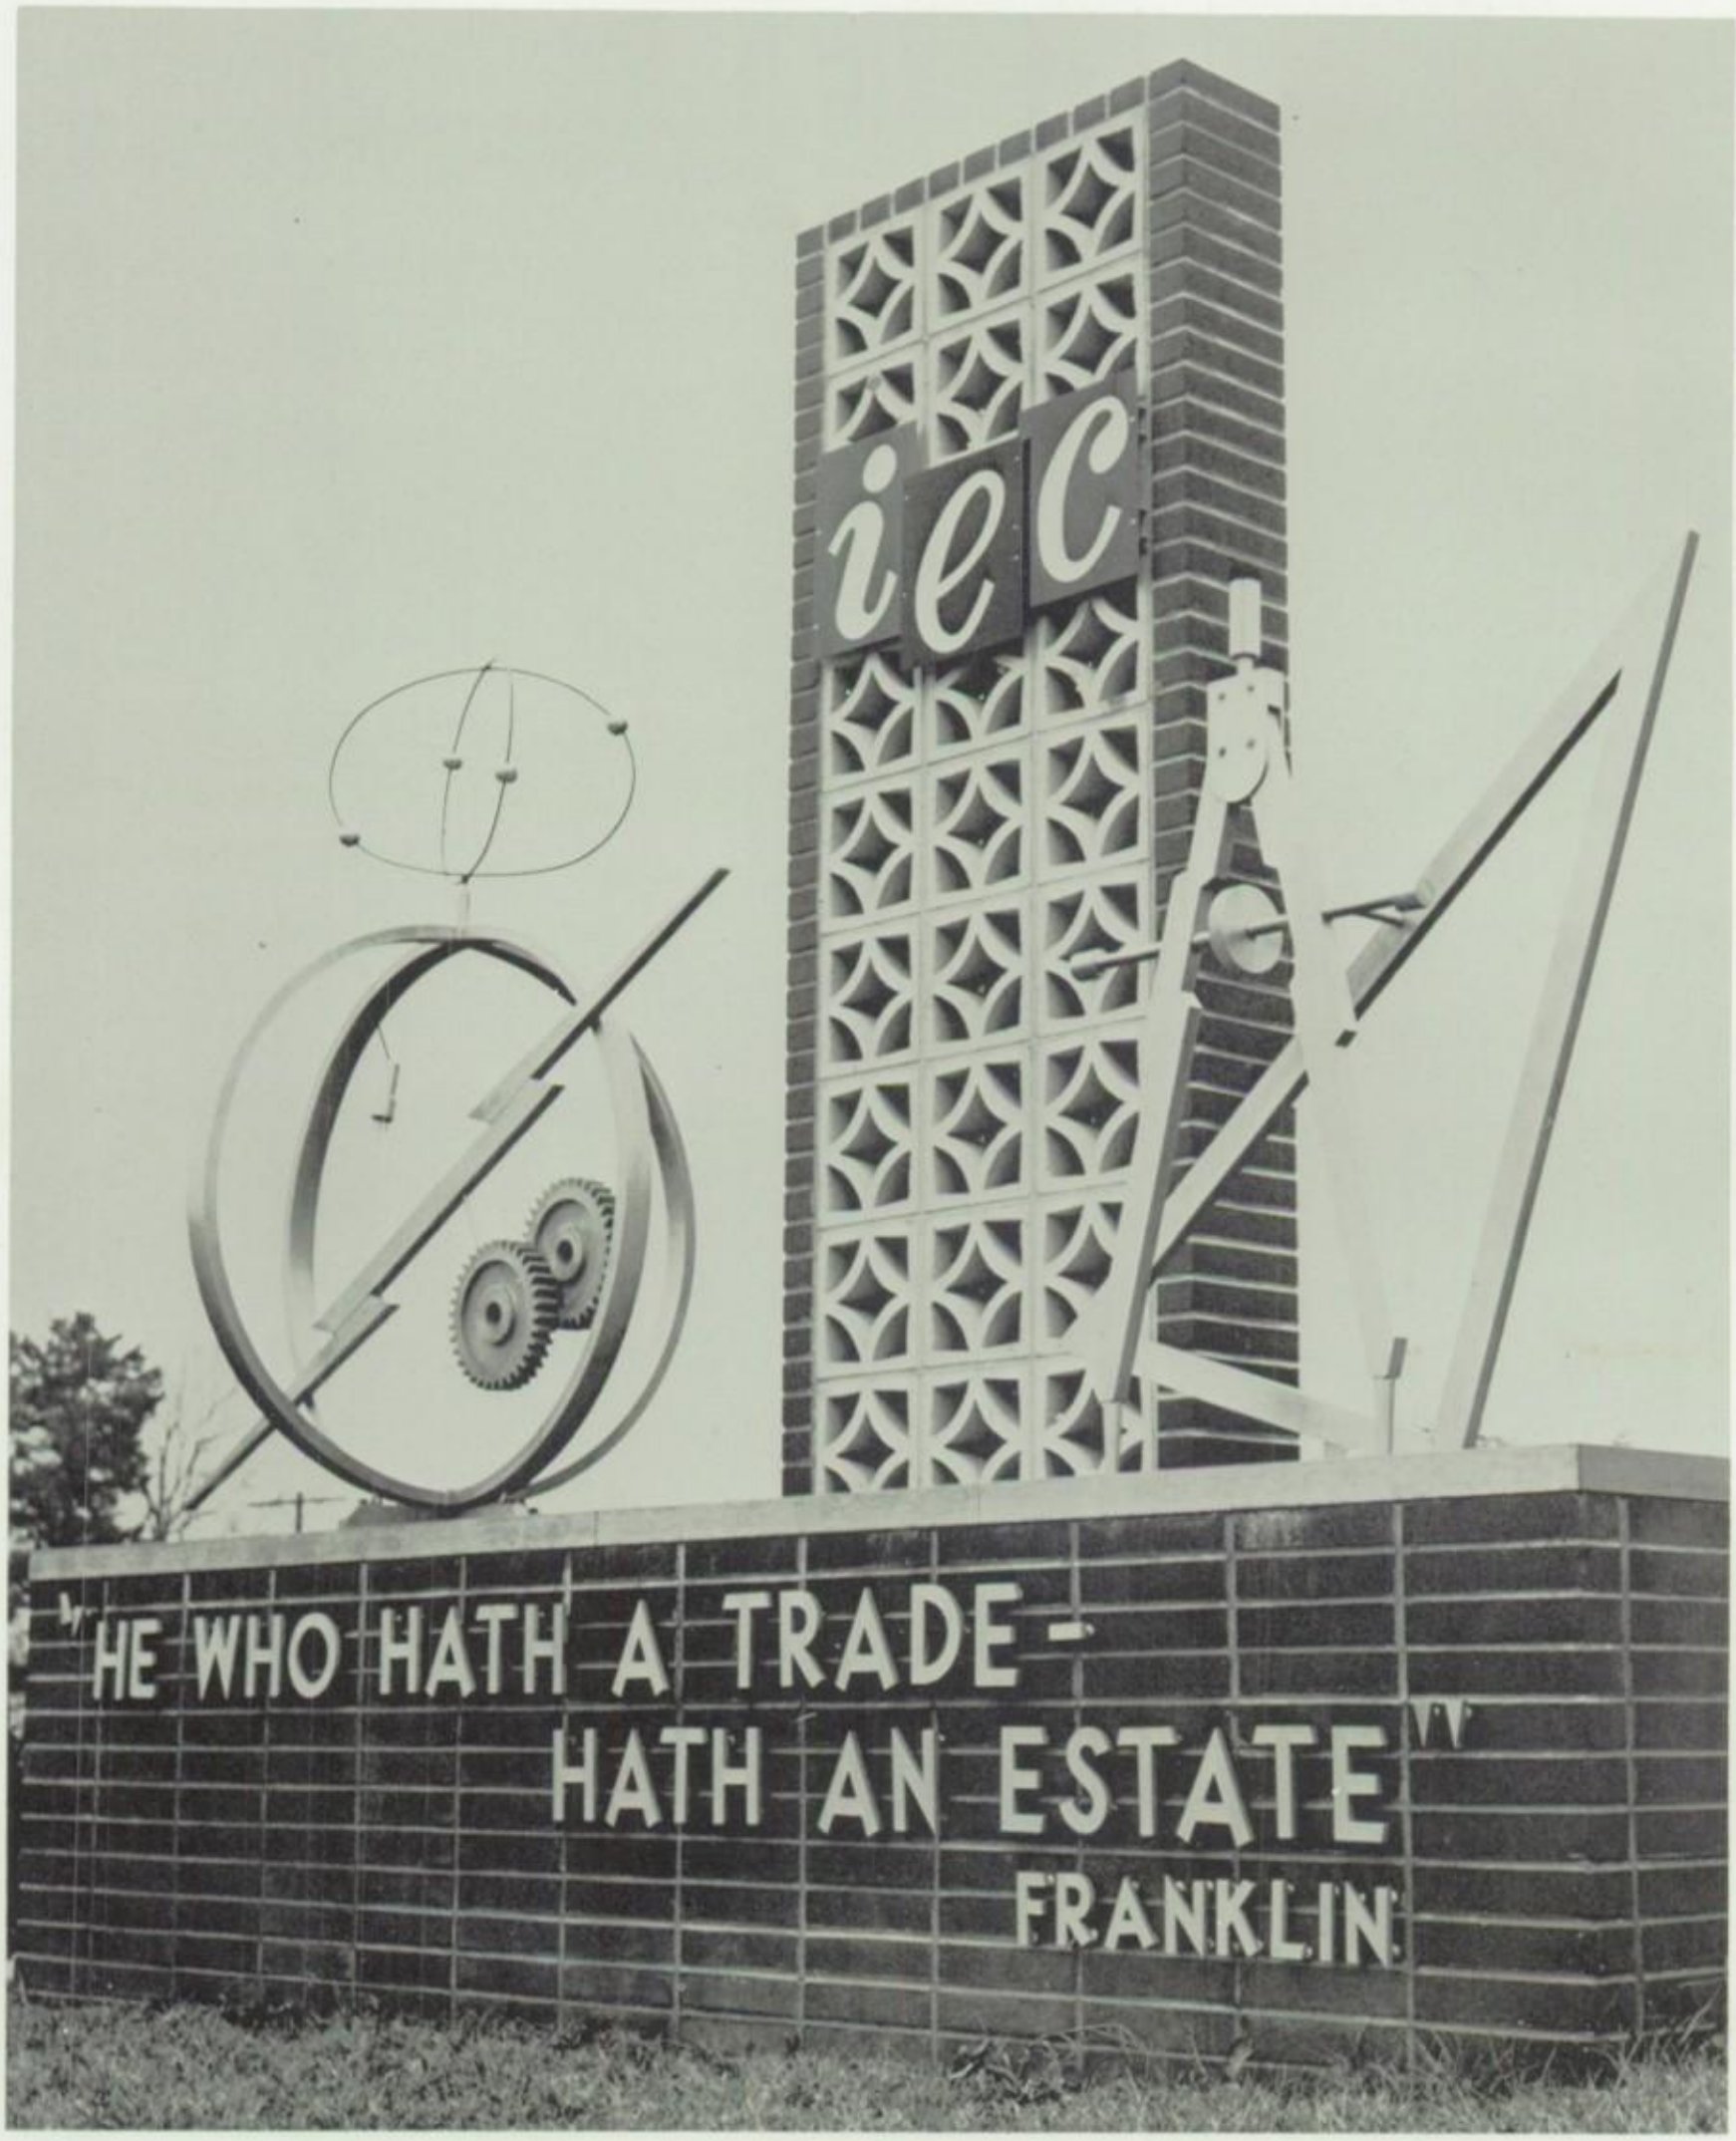
Among their activities for the year are inviting outstanding citizens of the community to speak to the club, donating baskets of food to needy families, honoring one employer each year for outstanding service to the school, and taking part in the state organization of Vocational Industrial Clubs. Each year this I.C.T. Club has at least one state officer, and for the past two years the State I.C.T President has been chosen from this I.C.T. Club.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION CENTER



Our Industrial Education Center, I.E.C. for short, is one of the most modern and best equipped centers of its kind in the United States. Many of the full courses offered at the center have credits that are transferable to some colleges. Students taking these courses are trained in English and psychology, as well as math, the sciences, and various technologies. Citizens of Burlington and Alamance County should be extremely proud of having such a specialized institution.

BAND

Our W.H.S. band—that extra spark of enthusiasm—arouses the student body to the height of team support. In striking black and gold uniforms, the band entertains during halftime at all home football games. For the first time this year, the walls of our gym resound at basketball games with the lively tunes of a pep band. Parades certainly would not be complete without that starting ump-pa-pa of the band. Throughout the school term, Christmas, Winter, and Spring concerts are presented. This organization represents W.H.S. yearly in the State Band Contest, and individual members take part in the All-State Band and All-State Orchestra activities.

ORCHESTRA

The W.H.S. Senior Orchestra is one of the most important fine arts organizations at our school. It is made up of the most outstanding wind and percussion players from the band along with the strings. Each year the Senior Orchestra gives one concert at Christmas and one in the Spring, as well as attending the State Music Festival in April. In the past few years it has been the tradition for the Senior Orchestra to perform one number at the Baccalaureate Service before graduation.

"Teens Thirteen" is a special group made up of thirteen outstanding string players from the Senior Orchestra who perform classical, semi-classical, and popular music for many Burlington civic clubs and other organizations throughout the year.

A tympanist must have a "good ear," for he must tune his drums constantly so that the pitch is exactly right.

"Rehearsals—rehearsals"—this is the magic word of a successful performance. Before a performance many hours are spent in practice, going over and over separate parts until they are memorized. These parts must be combined to achieve a harmonious effect. An audience hears polished selections achieved only after hours of practice by members and director.

What would Christmas be without the age old carols? This year our chorus, together with the band and orchestra, presented a most enjoyable Christmas assembly consisting of carols and other familiar works. Portions of familiar carols were sung by the entire student body. Our chorus has been very active this year participating in the All-State Chorus and also in the annual Christmas Concert.

Jane Frost, Pianist for the Chorus, spends many hours after school assisting choral groups and soloists.

Bus Drivers

With safety as their top objective, the school bus drivers are faced with a demanding task, that of transporting students safely to and from the Burlington City Schools. Because of the many hours our bus drivers devote to their job and the responsibility they carry, we praise this group for their efforts. First Row: Mac Forbes, Gary Simpson, Joe Hooper. Second Row: Kenneth Helm, Phillip Hawn, Jeff Hagood, Vic Winburn, Sammy Lynch.

STUDENT STORE REPRESENTATIVES

The 'flu' season rolls around and everyone dashes to the student store for cough drops. In addition to the desired stock of cough drops, our student store has just about anything in the line of school supplies from erasers to notebooks. The two student stores, located at each end of the main hall, are capably run by Johnny Pitts, Sharon Hinshaw, Paul Jones, and Katrina Pyne with Miss Lucy Glenn Gill and Miss Rena Bateman as advisers.

CUSTODIANS

The responsibility of keeping our physical plant tidy and properly heated is a big task. Sweeping, scrubbing, stoking the furnace, answering calls from the office, our custodians perform the duties necessary to keep our school building and grounds in good condition.

First Row: Louise Jeffries, Charlotte Wells, Cornelia Kent.
Second Row: Thomas Pulliam, Howard Compton, John Stanfield.

MR. GAMBLE

With his "Now hear this!" Mr. Percy Gamble launches into one of his philosophical discourses. Many have been entertained by his accounts of days in the British Navy, told in his clipped accent. Mr. Gamble will always be remembered as a new and refreshing personality by the students of W.H.S. because of his cheerful character and delightful individuality.

"SAM"

A green panel truck + a ring of keys + a coil for wire + time to help + a friendly smile = Sam.

His day is never too busy to take time to bleed a radiator, replace a light bulb, or stop for a chat. Master of the light panel in the auditorium, he is present for all performances there. W.H.S. just might corrode or fall apart at the partitions without the talents of Sam.

The Varsity Cheerleaders deserve recognition. When we see them leading cheers at athletic events, very few of us think of the efforts they have made for the W.H.S. student body. Not only do they have to accustom themselves to aching muscles, but they select their uniforms and arrange for their transportation to games. The responsibility for behavior of W.H.S. fans and the leadership in expression of school spirit during games is theirs. This is not a small task, and we owe the girls who have so faithfully met this challenge a vote of gratitude.

Who can can? We can can can!

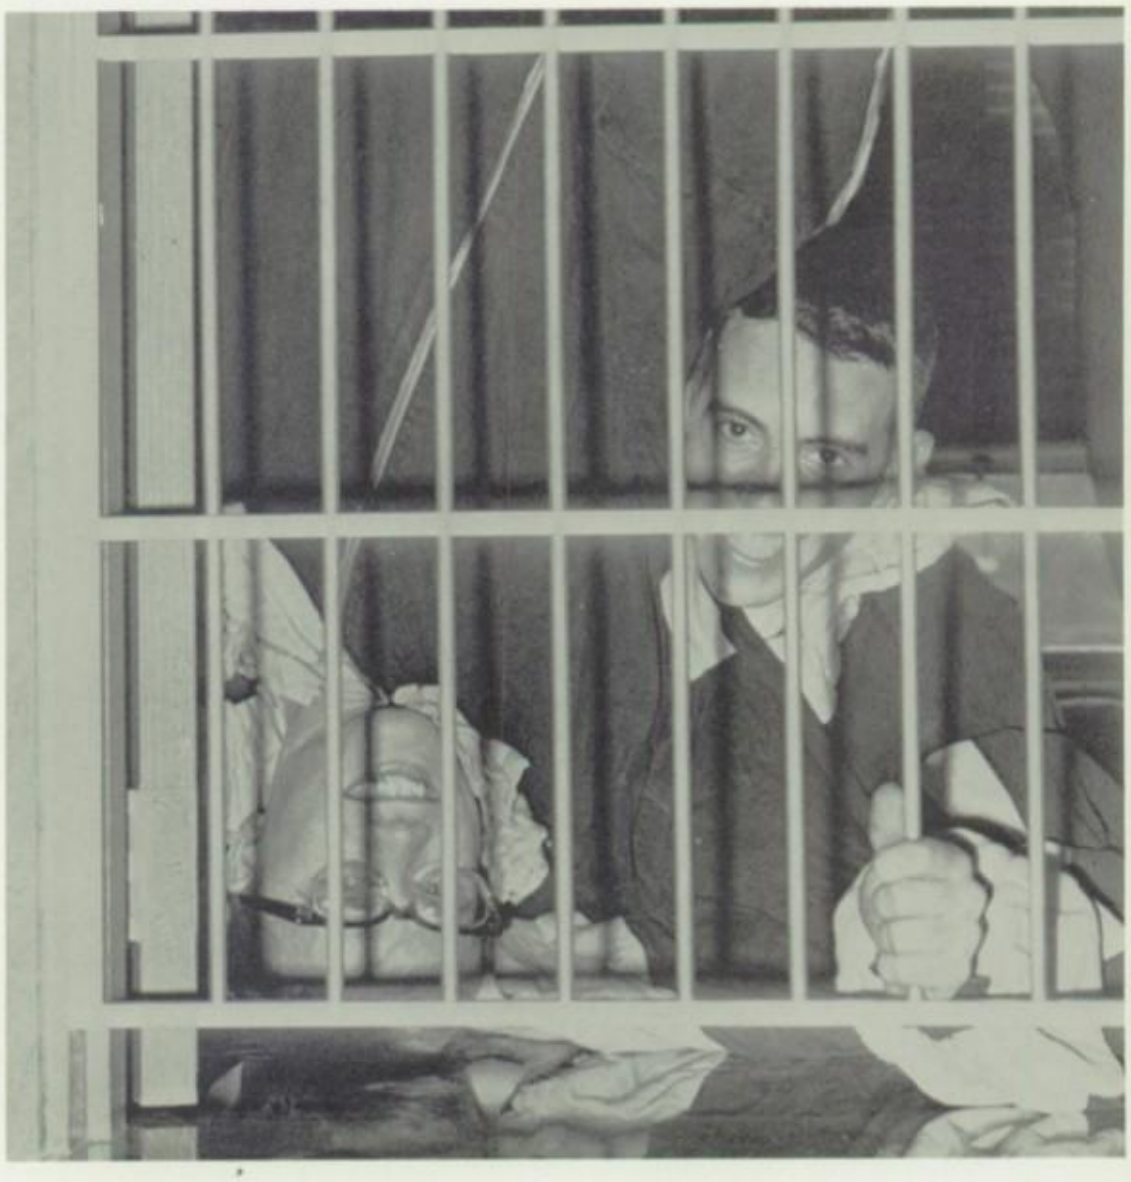
Attractive in their black and white uniforms, the J.V. cheerleaders lead the fans in cheers at all J.V. football and basketball games. These girls are gaining much valuable experience which will prove useful in their later years of high school.

CLOWNS

Sounding the victory trumpet, leading cheers, or just giving everyone the exuberant desire to win with their game antics, Steve Morris and Chuck Stedman as clowns stimulate enthusiasm in the W.H.S. cheering section.



ATHLETICS

Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Team play and harmony are responsible for success.

A team that won't be beat can't be beat.

Without rules there can be no game.

Success means individual effort and sacrifice.

MR. KERRY RICHARDS, Head Track, End Coach, J.V. Basketball.

Builders of teams and men

Our smiling coaches, left to right: Frye, Miller, Abercrombie, Isley, Richards and Wilson.

MR. FRED MILLER, Athletic Director, Head Basketball.

The fine athletic teams that have represented Williams High School over the past few years can be attributed to the efforts of our exceptional coaching staff, which has molded many a young man into a good athlete and gentleman.

Not only does the coach instruct men on the field, but he also teaches in the classroom. He is a leader who is followed by many who wish to follow the good example that he must set.

Fortunate we are indeed to have such dedicated men to be our coaches.

From the opening minutes of football season, with the Bulldogs driving the length of the field in only nine plays for a touchdown against Durham, to Jim Donnan's never-to-be-forgotten field goal which beat High Point 22-21 as the final gun closed a thrilling game and a successful season, our boys continually fielded a polished, hard-fighting outfit that conquered eight of the ten opponents. Their record marred only by losses to Greensboro Grimsley and undefeated Winston-Salem Reynolds, our single-wing Bulldogs rode the passing combination of Donnan to the end Bill Gentry, the power-packed running of fullback Doug Amick, and the tireless efforts of a strong forward wall led by Ken Dingler, Charles Graham, and Mike Ray to a third-place finish in the Central 4-A Conference.

Thirteen senior lettermen and a number of talented sophomores and juniors provided the punch that enabled the Bulldogs, under head coach C. A. Frye, to win four straight games and then to bounce back after their two losses to win four more in a row. Larry Smith, Vic Pate, Robert Wells, Pete Jarvis, and Jimmy Durham turned in fine performances throughout the season. Two valuable starters, guard Bob McLeod and wingback Robert Ellis, saw only limited action this year due to ankle injuries sustained in September, but both, though used sparingly, made important contributions.

Bright prospects include juniors Robert Schoderbek, Kenny Walker, Wallace Hardwick, Bill Purdy, and versatile Bill Spain, and sophomores Mike Ellis, Ed Hicklin, Jim Newlin, and Sammy Storey. Spain, Schoderbek, and Ellis were often starters, while Hicklin on many occasions made brilliant runs for long gains.

Pre-season opinion rated the Bulldogs underdog to none and indicated that they might take the conference title hands down, but the two important losses under pressure erased hopes of the predicted glory. Undaunted, the team played with the spirit that typifies W.H.S. and showed many of the signs of a champion.

First Row: Head Coach C. A. Frye, L. Smith, V. Pate, J. Donnan, D. Amick, B. Gentry, P. Jarvis, R. Ellis, B. Ray, K. Dingler, C. Graham, J. to fine record.

As co-captains for 1962, Pete Jarvis and Bill Gentry led the Bulldogs and set a high standard of performance for the other boys to follow.

Jarvis, from his blockingback position, called signals and kept the team working smoothly. He was often the unheralded man-behind-the-scenes who gave the team the boost they needed for victory. His all-around leadership is exemplified by his serving as President of the Student Body for '62-'63.

Gentry, his great form never failing, powered his way for long yardage in every game and caught numerous touchdown passes. He received the Outstanding Lineman Award for the Central 4-A Conference and was named to All-Conference and All-State teams.

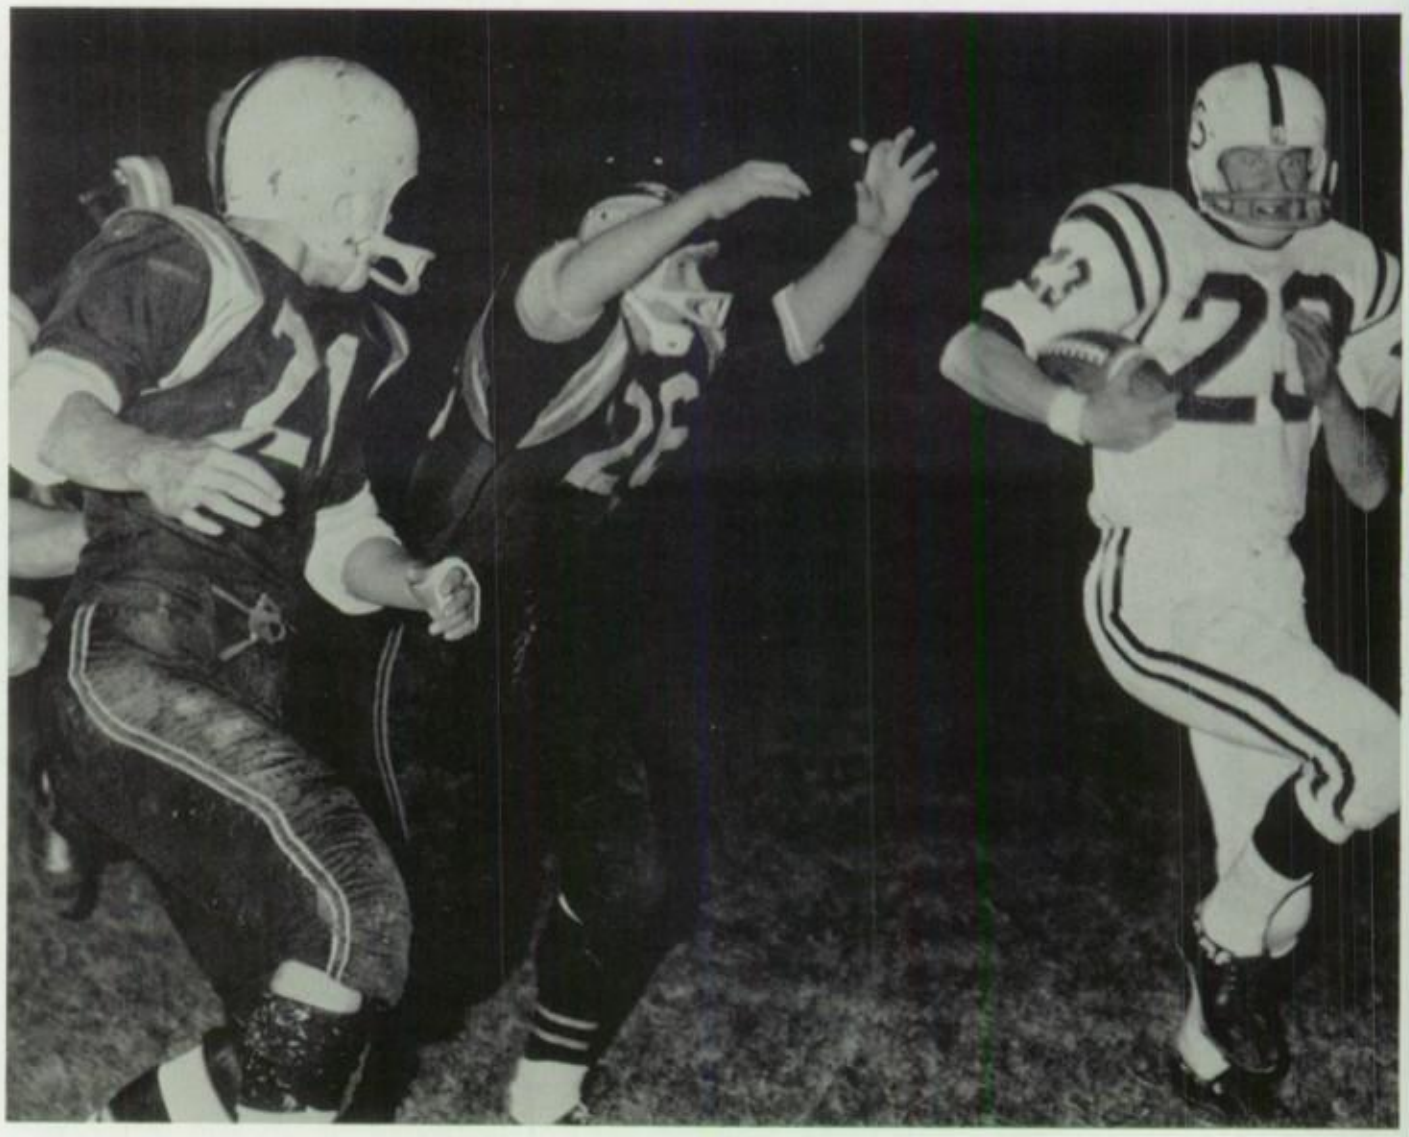
Winning means hard work.

Opposite page: Jim Donnan fights his way through two Wilmington defenders, following a block by Doug Amick. Donnan passed to end Mike Ray for one touchdown, ran for another, and booted three extra points as the Bulldogs outscored the Wildcats 21 to 12, with Amick adding the other score.

Bill Gentry prepares to lateral after snagging a short pass. Gentry scored twice on aerials from Donnan, the latter adding his ninth and tenth placements without a miss as Burlington rolled over Gray 14 to 0. Charles Graham drew praise for his linebacking in this game.



Doug Amick breaks away for a long gain in the homecoming contest with Salisbury. Donnan, Amick, and Kenny Walker led the Bulldogs to a 33-0 rout in the rain. Amick, the workhorse fullback who could usually be counted on to pound out the yardage needed for a first down, was a formidable, hard-to-stop scoring threat against all opponents.

Fast action

Left: Robert Ellis, speedy wingback who was knocked out of action with an ankle injury, is seen leaving Salisbury's defense baffled as he breaks loose on a run around right end. Ellis, who was not content to sit and watch from the sidelines, was put into several games when speed was called for, and he high-stepped his way to some good gains.

Above: Gentry surprises a Gray runner with a ferocious tackle.

Below: Mike Ellis charges downfield against Winston-Salem Gray. Mike, a sophomore this year, stepped into his brother Robert's vacated starting role and showed great promise.

and fine results

In addition to the physical and mental training that athletes receive from arduous practice and demanding game situations, there is the recognition of their fellow students to make their efforts worthwhile. A few seconds before the picture at right was taken, Jim Donnan was readying himself to attempt a 30-yard field goal with two seconds left in 1962's last game. His kick was perfect, and an elated bunch of Bulldogs had beaten High Point 22 to 21 as the crowd surged onto the field.

Each of the boys in the picture below did a superior job in some sport last year, and their recognition came in the form of the trophies they are holding, which were presented in the last assembly program of the year.

This year's Junior Varsity football team was not very successful as far as their record goes, but Coaches Isley and Wilson can count plenty of success in advancement in high hopes for the varsity they will compose. Hampered by several one-point losses, the team won only one game, beating Winston-Salem Gray; but the inexperienced squad rose to be a team to be feared by the end of the season.

All games were team efforts, with few individual standouts. However, there are numerous fine prospects for next year's varsity, the top hopes riding on Bill Higgins, Skip Whitenack, Rick Lindsey, Mike Beamon, Buzzy Ward, Blake Crawley, and Sam Fowler.

Lindsey follows blockers for short gain.

Coach Miller sends Ray in with hurried instructions.

Head Coach Fred Miller's Bulldogs, showing the same speed, teamwork, and scoring punch that brought the 1961-62 team the Central 4-A Conference Championship, are again the top team in the loop for 1963, with a 7-1 conference mark as the annual goes to press.

The Bulldogs notched early season victories over Raleigh, Durham, Salisbury, Greensboro Grimsley, Winston-Salem Gray, High Point, Graham, Greensboro Page, and Winston-Salem Reynolds. The two defeats came at the hands of Raleigh and Lexington.

Coach Miller, assisted by Mr. Gordon Isley, again shaped his boys into a strong club, hoping to successfully defend the conference title and go on to bigger things in the form of the state tournament.

title with successful first round.

Gentry shoots a jumper against the Yellow Jackets.

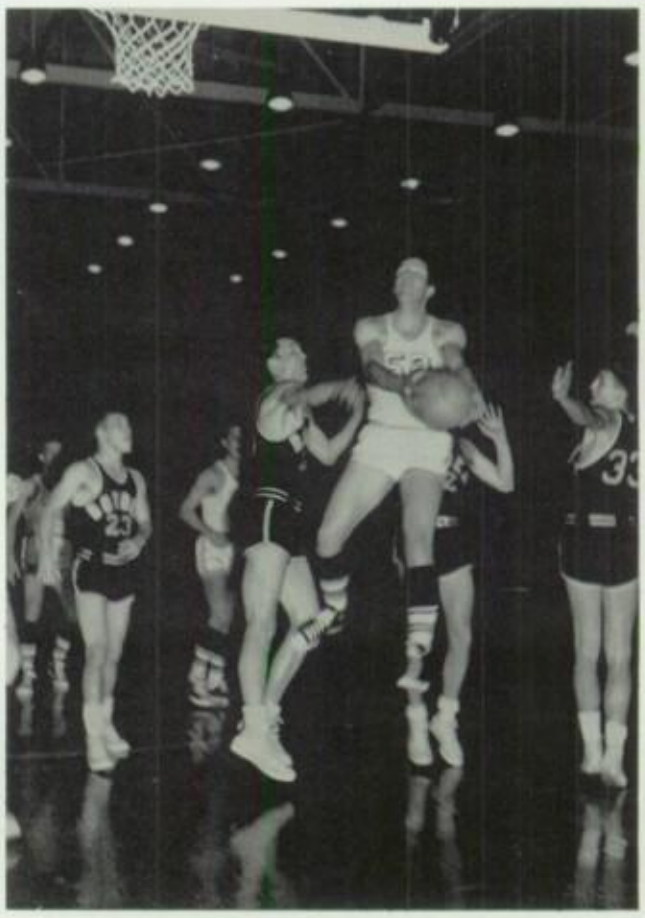
Jarvis tries for a three-point play.

Students stand for the singing of the Alma Mater.



Gentry hauls down a rebound.

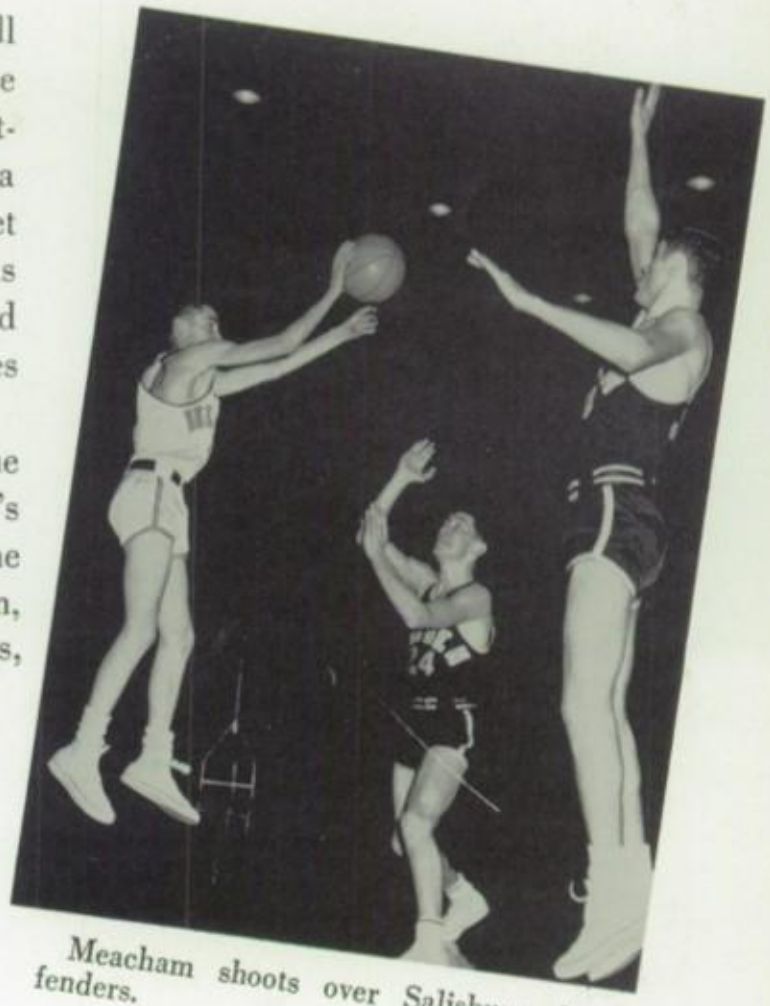
The Bulldogs' tactics may be summed up with the following: "get the ball" on defense and "run" on offense. The fast break was frequently used and with good results, often turning what otherwise might have been a close game into a runaway. The "gut" press also took its toll on opponents. With strong shooters and adequate size, the team was a hardy competitor, upholding the school's fine athletic record.

Jayvees have slow start, improve rapidly.

Higgins drives for a two-pointer.

The '62-'63 Junior Varsity basketball team started slowly, winning only one of its first five starts. Then after Christmas, Coach Kerry Richards hit upon a winning combination, and his quintet took seven of its next nine games. As the book goes to press, the record stands at six wins and two losses against conference opponents.

Led by guard Mike Garrison, the five most responsible for the team's winning record, all regarded as prime varsity prospects, are Mike Meacham, Pete Pate, Rick Lindsay, Bill Higgins, and Garrison.



Meacham shoots over Salisbury defenders.

Experienced baseball team

Despite the fact that they won only one game, the 1962 Williams High School baseball team remained confident and high-spirited. Throughout the season they practiced hard and played their best.

Jimmy Hucks, the only senior on the '62 squad, hurled the lone victory over Salisbury. Other outstanding players included infielders Lynn Smith and Kenny Walker, catcher Pete Jarvis, and pitcher Tommy Sox.

Hopes for this year's team run high. The large number of returning lettermen should put the '63 team well into the running in the Central 4-A conference.

The 1961-62 wrestling team compiled a record of seven wins against only one loss in the conference, winning the Central 4-A championship and placing sixth in the state meet. The only regular season loss, to Greensboro Grimsley, was avenged when the Bulldogs defeated the Whirlies later in the season for the crown. While losing regulars Danny Graves, Jerry Rhodes, Jesse Swaim, and John Mills by graduation, the 1963 team has talented lettermen in John Loy, 145 pounds; Larry Surber, 138; and Dickie Hughes, 180. Loy fought his way to the '62 state championship without a defeat. Surber finished third in his class in state competition. Other promising wrestlers are Gary Sumner, Chuck Stedman, Bill Purdy, Bud Bare, Vic Pate, David Carpenter, Charlie Jones, Steve Allen, and Wallace Hardwick. The lightweight classes are handled by Bruce Strauch and Don Myers. Coach Gene Abercrombie hopes these boys can bring home another loop title and keep Williams among the elite. The record is three wins and one loss as the book goes to press.

Our track team, sporting new uniforms, wound up the 1962 season with a third place in the state meet after finishing third in both conference and sectional action.

Rodney Stewart heaved the shot to new sectional and state records, eclipsing the marks set by Reggie Loy in 1961.

Coach Richards looks to Jimmy Durham, Robert Wells, Robert Ellis, Dick Patton, and Robert Schoderbek to boost this year's team to another successful season.

Golf hopes run high.

With only one veteran, the '62 W.H.S. golf team, which placed fifth in the conference, gained valuable experience. Returning prospects include Steve Hooper, Lee Ryan, Joe Wiles, Ronnie Goodes, and Billy Coble. Several sophomores are expected to strengthen the ranks.

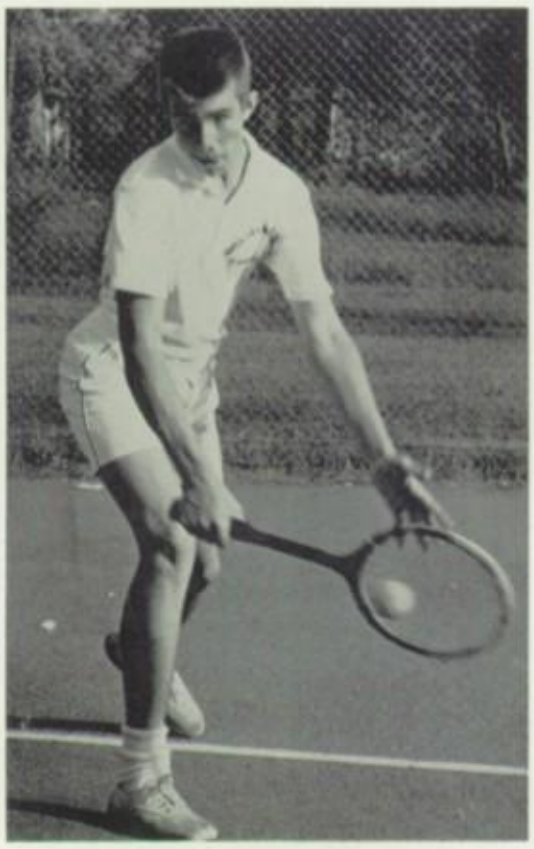
This year's team is sure to be a strong title contender, boasting five returning lettermen and several promising sophomores. Bolstering the squad are Wayne Amick, Paul Jones, Clay Hemric, Don Morrison, and Jim Donnan. Donnan has gone unbeaten through two season of play and last year advanced to the finals of the State Tournament.



Hemric strokes a firm backhand.

MIKE "BULLDOG" ELLIS

P.S. Stay as sweet as you are,
HA, HA, UGH, AND THROW-UP!
You STINK.

P.P.S. Have a good time with CW. if you can forget Kay Joyce!

Rodney!
Good Luck--! Hope someday you look back and remember all the good times we had!

Mary Dee

Dear Rodney,

I know and have learned alot about you! (You'll have to ask yourself if that's good or bad.) I've seen you under the best and under the worst conditions. Maybe you'll become a great person and gain wealth, become snobbish! But I'll always remember you the way you are now. Next year you will see the greatest Senior Class in the history of W H S (mine!). We're going to have a blast next year. Wishing you all the luck in the world.

Remember me!

Love,
Rine
Sinnemarr

Rodney,

What do you say to a character like you? Well I'll try. Best wishes to you whatever you attempt - honest or otherwise! Will never forget ya'

I'll be luck and the beach. Let me know - I won't go (Wed) good luck and I'll see you get to High point.

Wayne Baldwin

Rodney,
Although Kathy has diagnosed you as having an inferiority complex, I'm sure that you will soon recuperate, (if you were ever ill at all) and will then go on to great heights. I feel that you will soon realize the great amount of ability that you have and will then rapidly rise up the ladder of success. Best Wishes for a happy and prosperous school year of 1963-1964.

Kenneth Day

Rodney
Although you sometimes pretend to be dumb I'm sure you're really intelligent. You've got a way with people and even when you make me mad, I really can't hate you. I've enjoyed reading "acquainted" with you this year and hope you succeed in the future. History class would have been really dull without you!
Kathy Bynum

P.S. Your "amours" and stories have really been educational!

Rodney

Rodney,
You are what you are because you are you. Your Friday nights [redacted] will go down in [redacted] history. I hope you don't get caught [redacted] at anything. Luck.

Rodney "Stan",
This is the first year we've known each other and its really been... different?
Seriously, it was great! I'll never forget the days in good 'ole Rexio Burgeria's Biology lab. Remember the Legion Hut; did we act like fools?! (what about that letter you wrote me in study hall?) Looking forward to more good times.
Love ya,
Sophia (Steve)

(P.S. quote: "I think you're cute.")

Roger,
You've really collected the memories for us all in all, you're a "swell" guy. We all had some good time, and we've all had our ups-and-downs. I hope the next two years will be wonderful for you.
Lots of luck,
Carolyn Coe

Rodney,
You just gotta do (your) Thing, Like (your) Hair, a little sophomoric, what-the-hell, Chickiana, Where's your sense of humor, Let's Live, and Let Live, Groovy, Keep (your) Cool, Be (your) Self, Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman, Love ya, You're part of the good memory I have of Broad Street. We really had a pretty good time, too. In the mornings before school I hope this won't be our last year together and I'm looking forward to some more ~~lively~~ lively ones this summer and next year.

Good luck to a great guy!

Your talk today was your best ever.
It alone will enable me to remember you as you really are.
I hope that you will continue to be as happy as you are and I want to wish you the best of luck in everything.
We've really had some good times and I hope we will have many more.

Keep up the good poems,
